

Time Running Out for Charter on November Ballot

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON For the second year in a row, the proposed Ulster County Charter probably will not be on the November ballot as previously anticipated.

Ernest John Gardner (R-Dist. 11), chairman of the Legislative and Rules Committee, which has been studying the document, said today he seriously doubts that his committee can complete study of the proposal in time for a referendum this year.

He stressed that the charter requires extensive study when one considers that it took the Ulster County Charter Commission close to three years to draw up the proposals.

Gardner said he didn't feel it is possible to study the charter, make revisions and still conduct the necessary public hearings before presenting it to the Ulster County Legislature for its adoption by early September. The September deadline is necessary if the proposal is intended for a November referendum.

The final draft of the Charter, submitted to the Legislature in June of 1970, calls for an executive form of government with an elected county executive at the head. Other elected officers would include a comptroller, district attorney, sheriff, county clerk and coroners. The executive's term would run for four years.

When presented to the Legislature, Charter Commission Chairman Ward

Ingalsbe commented at that time that it was "the best possible charter to meet the specific requirements of Ulster County and its residents."

Ingalsbe and some other members of the 17-member Charter Commission have recently expressed interest in seeing the proposal come out of committee for consideration by the county board and the electorate.

It has been reported that some of the delay in getting the charter out of committee is due to various opinions concerning several suggested changes in the document.

If and when it goes to a referendum it will have to be adopted by a majority of voters within the City of Kingston and a majority of voters in the county.

Special

A November balloting on the question is said to be preferred to a special election partly because a special election could cost as much as $40,000. If such thinking continues to prevail, it would mean the charter would not come before the people before November 1972, at the earliest.

Gardner said that his committee plans to create a digest of the charter, putting the document in capsule form perhaps as a booklet for distribution to voters.

Asked what major changes are contemplated in the charter, Gardner said there are several areas where the committee feels there should be revisions. For instance the Charter Commission recommends that the Health, Mental Health and Social Services Department be lumped together creating what Gardner terms a "super agency." He and his committee feel they should be maintained separately. Also, he said, there is concern as to whether the three departments would continue to receive state aid if they were fused together.

Another area where the committee feels a need for revision is in the structure of the Planning Department. The Charter Commission suggests making the department an agency of the General Administration whereas the Legislative and Rules Committee feels it should be maintained as a full status department, with the director reporting directly to the county executive, rather than to the office of General Administration.

Gardner explained further that the Charter Commission also has placed the Research and Development Department under General Administration and he feels it should be put in with the Planning Department. He points out that Planning Director Herbert Hekler is already working in the area of research and development in an effort to secure state aid whenever possible.

Among suggested innovations in county government, under the commission's proposals, is the creation of a Central Purchasing Office which would be headed by a county purchasing agent appointed by the county executive. He would have the responsibility for all purchasing or rental and stockpiling of supplies and equipment for all departments and agencies of the government, except for such emergency and minor items as the County Legislature may authorize to be purchased, rented or stored.

Port Ewen Doctor Indicted On Falsifying Medicare Bills

NEW YORK CITY Dr. Arthur J. Freeman, 57, a general practitioner with offices in Port Ewen will be arraigned in the U. S. District Court on Monday, April 19, at 10:30 a. m. on charges stemming from a federal grand jury indictment in regard to false claims for medicare payments.

Assistant U. S. Attorney David V. Keegan, who presented the case to the grand jury said an indictment was handed up Tuesday charging that the Ulster County physician submitted false claims for payments under the federal medicare program.

Keegan said the 14-count indictment alleged that Dr. Freeman, who has been practicing in this area since 1946, submitted fraudulent forms to the Social Security Administration for the medical treatment of 13 different patients.

If convicted, Freeman faces up to a maximum of five years imprisonment and a fine of $10,000 on each count, it was reported.

Dr. Freeman, The Daily Freeman learned, has been a patient at Albany Medical Center Hospital for treatment of an undisclosed ailment since Thursday. He was reported in satisfactory condition this morning.

The Port Ewen practitioner is a 1940 graduate of Edinburgh School of Medicine and was in general practice in London from 1940 to 1942. He interned at Fordham Hospital, New York City, from 1942 to 1943 and at that time was licensed to practice in New York State. He held a residency at Reno, Nev., hospital from 1943 to 1944.

Dr. Freeman came to Ulster County shortly thereafter and was accepted on the courtesy staff of Benedictine Hospital in 1946. In 1954 he became a staff member at the local hospital.

About the time he started at Benedictine Hospital, he opened his offices at Port Ewen, where he resided.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Keegan said today he could not reveal how much money in claims or payments are involved in the case.

U.S. Attorney Whitney North Seymour Jr., commenting on the case said he believed this was the first prosecution since the adoption of the medicare program in 1965. He observed that the importance of enforcement in this field was necessary due to the increasing costs of providing health care to the aged.

Under the federal medicare plan, those eligible over 65 years of age, and who have subscribed for the plan have their physician's bill paid. For the services extended by the physician, medicare may pay the bill either to the subscriber, or directly to the doctor.

Where the services are performed in the physician's office or when he calls, the physician usually files his bills with an application directly to the Medicare office.

Nixon Eases Curbs In Gesture to China

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon announced today a five-step program easing travel and trade restrictions with Communist China.

Nixon said that after a review he had decided on the following steps—none of which would require new legislation or diplomatic negotiations with the Red Chinese government.

The United States is prepared to expedite visas for visitors or groups from the Chinese mainland.

U.S. currency controls are to be relaxed to permit the use of dollars by the Chinese Communists. Previously, a Treasury license had to be obtained in order to send dollars into China.

Restrictions are to be ended on American oil companies providing fuel to ships or aircraft proceeding to and from China except on Chinese-owned or Chinese-chartered carriers bound to or from North Vietnam, North Korea, or Cuba.

U.S. ships or aircraft may now carry Chinese cargoes between non-Communist ports. U.S. owned foreign flag carriers may call at Chinese ports.

Nixon has asked that a list be prepared of non-strategic items which can be generally licensed for direct export to China. Following review and his approval of specific items on this list, direct imports of designated items from China also will be allowed.

The President said in a statement he will consider additional steps that might be taken to improve relations with Red China.

His announcement came less than a week after a U.S. table tennis team was invited to visit Red China along with a group of American newsmen.

Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai had a friendly meeting with the American group earlier today.

However Nixon's actions went far beyond the symbolic gesture involved in the "ping pong" breakthrough.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon's actions were taken without any contacts with the Red regime but he added "we would hope there would be a positive response in practical terms."

Ziegler said the President made his decision before the U.S. team was invited to China.

He said that the question of loosening up on the trade and travel barriers had been under discussion in the administration as far back as December.

Meanwhile in Peking, Chou told a visiting American table tennis team today their trip to Communist China means "a new page" in relations with the United States.

Chou said that "more Americans will come in the future," including correspondents "in batches." U.S. journalists were allowed to accompany the 15-member team into China.

Today's meeting with Chou was the first such audience granted Americans since the Peoples' Republic was established 22 years ago.

The Chinese premier asked the American players to return home with regards of the Chinese people to the American people.

He met for nearly two hours with table tennis players from the United States, Canada, Colombia, Nigeria and Britain, but almost half the session was devoted to the American group.

To the Americans, the largest organized group of U.S. citizens ever to meet with Chou since he and Communist Party Chairman Mao Tse-tung established the Peoples' Republic of China in 1949, the premier said: "In the past, there were lots of American friends in China. You have made a new start. Americans will come in the future, including correspondents in patches."

"In the past there were many Sino-American exchanges. There have been cut off for a long time but with the accepting by you of China's invitation to visit our country, a new page has been opened in relations between our two peoples."

Uptown Park Ban May Start Thursday

By JON POWERS

KINGSTON Work began today on a project that many hope will significantly alleviate traffic congestion in the Stockade area of the uptown shopping district.

Mayor Francis R. Koenig this morning received word from the Uptown Businessmen's Association that they have unanimously endorsed his proposal for a 30-day trial basis parking ban on several streets in uptown Kingston.

Upon receipt of the letter, Koenig dispatched crews from the Board of Public Works to remove parking meter heads and install "no parking" signs in the affected areas. When the work is completed, Koenig will issue an executive order banning parking in that area for 30 days.

All necessary alterations to the meters and signs in that area may be completed by this evening. If they are, the parking ban would probably go into effect Thursday.

Plans call for the temporary elimination of parking spaces on the southwest side of Fair Street, from North Front Street to Pearl Street; on the north side of North Front Street from the parking garage to the municipal parking lot and the elimination of some parking spaces on the north side of John Street between Wall and Crown Streets. Parking along Wall and Crown Streets, however, will not be prohibited.

It was considered only a matter of time before the plan was implemented. The Uptown Businessmen approved Koenig's plan at a meeting more than two weeks ago, but they did not formally inform Koenig of their decision until today.

If the parking ban is judged to be a success, it is expected that the Traffic Committee will recommend to the Common Council that it be adopted on a permanent basis. The Traffic Committee, under Alderman Peter Mancuso (D-12th Ward) had already pledged complete support for the parking ban.

Initially, Koenig had proposed a 90-day trial ban, a suggestion that was met with dismay by uptown businessmen. They charged that 200 parking spaces would be lost, and that business would be seriously affected, if the 90-day ban was approved.

Koenig, incidentally, did not need the approval of the businessmen before initiating the plan. But he announced in March that he would take no definite action until he had consulted, and reached agreement, with the uptown merchants.

The businessmen were appreciative of the way Koenig handled the situation. Earlier this week, Stanley London, president of the group, told The Daily Freeman, "He (Mayor Koenig) could have gone ahead with the executive order at any time, but he consulted us first. Koenig and the Traffic Committee gave us a fair deal."

London, however, was not predicting the outcome of the trial parking ban. "We'll just have to see whether the uptown shoppers prefer places to park or permanent basis. The Traffic Committee, under Alderman London said.

Ted Weiner, a member of the businessmen's association, said the group will review the progress of the ban "in 20 or 25 days," but he added, "It all depends on how it's policed. If it's not policed, there's no sense trying it." Mayor Koenig, however, assured that the parking ban would be strictly enforced.

AID AND COMFORT—A wounded South Vietnamese soldier is confronted by a bud-dy at Fire Base 6. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Fire Base 6 Battle Continues

SAIGON (AP) — More fighting raged near Fire Base 6 today, and a U.S. helicopter lifted out four of the five American advisors at the besieged outpost in the central highlands.

Meanwhile, 4,000 South Vietnamese reinforcements poured into the area.

The Americans were not wounded, and no reason was given for bringing them out. But there was speculation that they were exhausted by the two-week-old siege and were being given a rest.

Field reports said that when the helicopter landed at the base, about 40 South Vietnamese soldiers swarmed to it trying to flee from the base.

Eight of them got into the chopper and were flown out with the Americans. Others tried to hang on to the landing skids—as South Vietnamese troops did during the retreat from Laos—but the pilots kicked them off.

The new fighting broke out half a mile northwest of the base Tuesday night and lasted until shortly before noon. South Vietnamese headquarters in Saigon claimed 96 North Vietnamese killed in the battle today, 50 of them by artillery and by U.S. and South Vietnamese fighter-bombers. A spokesman claimed more than 2,500 of the enemy have been killed since the North Vietnamese first attacked the base in the western central highlands two weeks ago.

The lead column of the eight relief battalions reached the hilltop base near the juncture of the Laotian and Cambodian borders Tuesday night without encountering opposition. Despite the outbreak of fighting on the northwest, other reinforcement units met little or no resistance as they advanced from other directions by foot and by U.S. helicopter.

This absence of enemy opposition led some U.S. officers to speculate that much of the North Vietnamese force besieging the base has pulled back to regroup.

Less than two battalions of South Vietnamese have been holding the base, but their exact number is not known. Four South Vietnamese were killed in the fighting today, six were missing and 37 were wounded, the Saigon headquarters said. The headquarters said this brought total government casualties around the base since March 31 to 146 killed, 37 missing and 342 wounded, but other sources said the totals are higher.

The relief force consists of seven battalions of South Vietnamese troops sweeping toward the base from the north and south, a total of perhaps 3,500 soldiers. Less than two battalions of troops are on the hill itself, but their exact number is not known.

South Vietnamese spokesmen in Pleiku said about 23,000 government troops are in the tri-border region, where South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia meet, to counter the current North Vietnamese offensive there.

Both sides have taken heavy losses since fighting around Fire Base 6 began March 31.

In Washington, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said the North Vietnamese have lost the capability of mounting a sustained offensive in South Vietnam despite their attacks in the central highlands.

While action was light in the highlands Tuesday, enemy forces made new attacks in the northern provinces north of Da Nang, killing two Americans and 20 South Vietnamese and wounding more than 13 Americans and 24 Vietnamese.

In one attack, enemy forces ambushed a train midway between Da Nang and Hue, 50 miles to the north. Saigon headquarters said 13 South Vietnamese soldiers and seven civilians riding the train were killed and 11 soldiers and 13 civilians were wounded.

U.S. paratroopers from the 101st Airborne Division clashed with North Vietnamese troops between the A Shau Valley and Hue. Two paratroopers were reported killed, 13 were wounded and one helicopter was shot down in the fight 19 miles southwest of Hue. Five North Vietnamese were reported killed.

Seven hours later, the U.S. unit came under mortar attack, and seven more Americans were wounded.

DRUG SEMINAR — Discussing Dutchess County drug addiction treatment programs are (L-R) the Rev. James Childs, Rondout Neighborhood Center advisory board member; Dr. Vincent Beltrani, guest speaker and Ed Brown, community organizer of the Rondout Center. Dr. Beltrani, director of YELL, emergency telephone service in Dutchess County and former director of the Methadone Maintenance Program in that area, outlined the programs at a drug seminar Tuesday night at the Rondout Neighborhood Center. Similar programs are under consideration locally and the seminar was presented by the Center as an informational meeting. (Freeman photo by Kruh).

Dutchess Woman Killed

PAWLING saw the woman, but was unable to stop in time. No summonses were issued. Police say the woman was wearing dark clothing.

Miss Weber died of a fractured skull, police reports said. Three Long Island teenagers, meanwhile, sustained injuries when their car crashed on Route 26 in Greene County Tuesday night. Two of the youths sustained lacerations and contusions, but were not hospitalized.

The driver of the car, John C. Kerwin, 18, of Valley Stream, was cited for speed not reasonable or prudent.

A passenger in the auto, 16-year-old Kevin Armstrong, of Far Rockaway, was reported in satisfactory condition this morning at Green County Memorial Hospital in Catskill with severe head lacerations and a possible concussion.

Leeds State Police investigated.

A 21-year-old West Park woman was taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctors Ambulance Tuesday afternoon after she sustained injuries when her car left Route 9W in West Park and flipped over. Highland State Police reported that Amelia DeCicco sustained a concussion and a lacerated hand. Hospital authorities today reported her condition as satisfactory.

Two men seriously injured in a Monday crash on the Thruway north of New Paltz were transferred Tuesday from Benedictine Hospital to Albany Medical Center. Arthur White, 40, of La Prairie, Quebec, who was earlier reported to be in poor condition at Benedictine, today was listed as fair by Albany hospital officials.

Francis Brown, 23, of Brooklyn remains in critical condition.

Red Hook OKs C-H Hearings

RED HOOK Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation was given the Red Hook Town Board's OK to conduct public hearings on combining the town's five lighting districts into one unit this year, at Tuesday's meeting.

It was explained by Supervisor Warren Simmons that this would spread the lighting costs evenly among all residents of the housing developments and college property involved on an assessed valuation, and would result in minuscule, if any, cost increases while reducing paper work for both the town and Central Hudson.

C-H expressed the wish to proceed with this as quickly as possible in order to have the districts combined by Jan. 1, 1972.

In other town business, the Board decided to appoint a three-man Board of Review for the new assessment system, effective Oct. 1 with the professional assessor. The alternate was a five-man board.

Town Justice Albert Trezza suggested asking members of the current Board of Assessors if they would like the paid jobs, as they are "the most qualified." A $5 per hour wage was set.

The Board ratified a $3,600 contract with Code Publishing Company to review all town laws, ordinances, and resolutions as far back as records go, about 100 years, and codify them.

The continuing problem of the Rockefeller Lane entrance onto Route 9 for school buses was brought up by Simmons, who said that Board of Education President Francis Rabbett and Transportation Supervisor Gus Lawson had approached him again.

No school buses are presently using the road, much as it is needed, because of the hazardous intersection. The Town Board has sought to get the necessary adjacent land to rectify the situation, with little luck.

Simmons commented that if the necessary cooperation was not forthcoming, "We'll have to take other means."

The supervisor reported on the results of a recent meeting with village, town, and county officials on the Orchard Hill Farms frozen food plant effluent problem.

He said the result is to extend the plant's deadline another year for necessary work on a planned "quarter-million dollar treatment plant," and that the state had taken over the direct responsibility of overseeing the work from the county.

County Representative Madison Sipperley Jr. told the Board that a public informational meeting on countywide tax mapping and reappraisal will be held at the Red Hook High School cafeteria at 7:30 p.m., April 22.

Incendiary Origin

Four City Blazes Under Probe

By JON POWERS

KINGSTON

Police and fire officials today are investigating four separate fires of incendiary origin that were reportedly set Thursday afternoon and early today.

Three small fires were set in a single building on Mill Street. The alarm was sounded at 2:53 a.m. today and upon arrival at the Levine Building, a three-story brick structure owned by Kingston Urban Renewal, firefighters found piles of cardboard and rags that had been set afire in two doorways of the vacant portion of the building.

Both fires were quickly extinguished by pressurized water tanks, with only minor damage reported.

While checking the interior of an attached garage, firemen discovered a third blaze that had been set by igniting several cardboard containers attached to the rafters of the building. That fire was immediately extinguished.

Deputy Chief Harry Sills was in command.

At 2:46 Tuesday afternoon, firemen were called to a vacant building in a wooded area on Linderman Avenue. Upon arrival at the scene, firemen found the one-story structure totally involved in flames, with the fire spreading to an adjoining lot. The house fire was extinguished by a single pump stream from Engine 4 and the adjoining brush fire was doused by water from pressurized tanks.

The building, owned by John Shultz of 132 West Chestnut Street, was totally destroyed.

Officials said the fire was of incendiary origin, and they reported that several other blazes had been ignited previously in the building.

Chief James Brett was in charge.

Two small brush fires also were doused by city firefighters between 8 and 9 p.m. Tuesday.

Brush fires also kept volunteers busy throughout the county on Tuesday. The Ulster County Fire Control reported today that 20 fires were reported Tuesday afternoon.

Small fires were reported in most sections of the county. The most serious was in a wilderness area near Hurley Mountain. Hurley volunteers battled that blaze for several hours Tuesday.

School Filing Deadline Today

KINGSTON

The last minute scramble is underway as several area residents work to complete their petitions for election to the Kingston Schools Consolidated Board of Education.

Deadline for filing petitions is tonight at 5 p.m.

Two seats on the Board of Education will be vacated this year, but both Board members, whose terms expire, have announced that they will seek reelection to a second five year term.

Mrs. Evelyn Corsones, who had second thoughts about running for reelection earlier this year, now says that she was persuaded to run again by both her family and "a great number of friends." She said that, while her post on the School Board was "very time consuming," she was more concerned about the school district and its students.

Bevier Sleight Jr. also will run for reelection this year. "I've learned a lot while serving on the board," said Sleight, "and the work is very interesting. Kingston has a fine system — a growing system — and I want to keep it that way."

Both Mrs. Corsones and Sleight, who were endorsed by the Independent Committee for School Board Elections, said that they would file their petitions today.

Ted Weiner, the first person to announce his candidacy, filed his petition on Monday. Weiner is running on an "economy platform," and was vocal opponent to the renovation of School 7 on Crown street.

Ward Todd, news director of WKNY, announced his candidacy for the School Board at a press conference this morning. Todd has already filed his petition.

A spokesman at Horton Memorial Hospital said the pilot,

Rudolph Willemsen, 41, of Hawthorne, N.J., was in fair condition today. Passenger James Camisa, 38, of Paramus, N.J., also was listed as fair and passenger Donald Szanbelan, 24, of Parsippany, N.J., as good.

Decision on Renaissance Pending

By WADE BURKHART

ELLENVILLE

A decision is still pending in the dispute between the Ellenville Renaissance Project and the Ellenville School District.

The case, argued before Deputy Commissioner of Education Gordon Ambach in Albany on March 30, involves the admission of a Renaissance member to Ellenville High School.

According to Joseph Tortelli, administrator of the parent project in New Rochelle, Renaissance contended that the school district had turned down a request from the young man in question (whose name has not been released) for admission to Ellenville High School.

Ben Lonstein, the school district attorney, has told The Freeman that the school district argument was that formal application was not made. He said the talks never got beyond the exploratory stage, and the Renaissance case before the Commissioner of Education Office, constituted as it was as an appeal, was not valid.

Lonstein said the school district had not made any evaluation of the merits of admitting Renaissance members to Ellenville Schools, and would not do so until such time as formal application was made.

Following the arguments, the Commissioner's office said two weeks would be allowed for the filing of any further legal papers in the matter before a final decision was given. Neither the school district nor Renaissance intended to file further papers.

According to Tortelli, the project has an ongoing and very successful program of tutorial instruction at the facility, leading to the taking of the state high school equivalency test. The tutorial program has had about 90 per cent success, Tortelli said. According to the Equivalency Department of the State Education Department, in order to qualify to take the exam, one must be 18 years of age or older, and have been out of school for at least one full year.

Tortelli did not anticipate the number of Renaissance members applying for admission to Ellenville schools would ever be very large, as most of the members qualified for the high school equivalency test. However, Tortelli pointed out that with the age of drug abusers going down as it is, Renaissance could have several persons in the future who could only complete high school at an accredited school. At present, only one Renaissance member falls in that category.

Tortelli said state law says that a resident of a treatment facility is a resident of the school district containing the facility, and under the law Renaissance members should be allowed to attend Ellenville schools.

Rhinebeck Plans Move to New Offices

RHINEBECK "Moving Day" for the Village of Rhinebeck will be April 24, with the Rhinebeck Fire Company slated to move to its new quarters May 1.

It was decided at Tuesday's Board of Trustees meeting that village employees will move what is salvageable and movable from the rented village offices to the new village hall-firehouse complex that Saturday morning.

Numerous problems were hashed over in moving the fire equipment, including radio towers for fire and police, the following Saturday from the old firehouse.

The Beekman Arms Hotel bought the old firehouse for $10,000 a year ago, and plans have been announced by owner Charles LaForge to open a gift shop on the ground floor.

The Board concluded public business by passing the 1971-72 village budget, after conducting an earlier public hearing at 8 p.m. An estimated tax increase of 90 cents per thousand will result.

Remarks at that hearing included questioning on whether there would be contractual expense savings by not having to pay rent. Mayor Peter Sipperley said that no one could tell now, but that the figure budgeted remains about the same. He also said that the money received for the sale of the old firehouse will be spread out over several years in the general fund.

It was noted by Village Clerk-Treasurer Patricia Pluff that the water plant failure last August has cost the village about $23,000 thus far, and Sipperley said this has come from "surplus funds" which were earmarked for lowering water rates before the mishap.

Their mother, Mrs. Irene C. Klein, apparently was thrown clear from the vehicle, which she had been driving.

Alice Makes a Dramatic Appeal

NEW YORK (UPI) — Alice Crimmins, reiterating that she did not kill her two children, appealed dramatically Tuesday for her former neighbors to "come forward and please help me."

With tears welling in her eyes and her voice breaking, the 32-year-old strawberry blonde told newsmen shortly before her State Supreme Court manslaughter-murder trial began its 20th day, "I didn't kill my children. I swear I didn't kill them."

Judge George J. Balbach later admonished the defense for allowing Mrs. Crimmins to make statements to newsmen. Assistant District Attorney Vincent F. Nicolosi strongly objected to her impromptu news conference. Escorted into the Queens Court House press room by private investigator Irwin Blye,

Mrs. Crimmins nervously accepted a proffered cigarette and spoke to newsmen from an old couch. "At this time I'd like to make an appeal and I'd like anybody that lived in my neighborhood on the morning of July 14-1965 or the night of July 13 to come forward and please help me," she said. Her plea followed the appearance Monday of surprise prosecution witness, Mrs. Tina Devita, a former neighbor who testified that from a moving car she saw a man carrying a bundle and walking with a woman, a boy and a dog near the Crimmins' apartment more than seven hours before the children were reported missing. Mrs. Crimmins is charged with manslaughter in the strangulation death of the girl and with murder in the slaying of the boy.

Ft. Hamilton Job-- The Night of Crime

NEW YORK (UPI)—Charles DiSogra, manager of a bank on Brooklyn's Ft. Hamilton military reservation, had just started helping a family friend with her income tax Monday night when the doorbell rang.

The ring launched a night of crime in which DiSogra and 13 friends and relatives were held hostage. The ordeal ended with the robbery of an estimated $250,000 from the Ft. Hamilton bank Tuesday morning.

Police today searched for the three gunmen who held up the bank. A 13-state bulletin was issued for their arrest. Police said it would be some time until the exact amount stolen would be determined but it was believed it would be close to the $250,000 figure.

Well Organized Robbery

The gunmen held the hostages Monday night and Tuesday morning, then tied them up in the basement and took DiSogra to the bank where they forced him to give them the payroll for a nearby Veterans Administration hospital. It was a brief, well organized robbery.

DiSogra answered the doorbell at his Staten Island home about 8:30 p.m. Monday and found three men outside. They identified themselves with badges as plainclothes detectives and said their car had broken down.

After being admitted, the men told DiSogra to send the woman with the income tax problem home. They asked DiSogra where his family was and he told them they had gone to spend the night at the home of Mrs. DiSogra's sister, Mrs. Margaret Baratta.

'Very Polite Men'

The men then pulled guns and put on ski masks and gloves.

They forced DiSogra to drive to and the third man stayed at the house.

took 14 persons - hostage, including the DiSogra family, the Barattas and relatives of the Barattas. The hostages included five children.

"In the morning we'll be happy and you'll be happy," said one of the gunmen.

The hostages were allowed limited freedom, some of them watching television, the others sleeping. Mrs. Baratta's sister, Mrs. Michael Castellano, said the intruders were "very polite men who soon put the whole family at ease."

Shortly after dawn, the hostages were tied to pipes in the basement. DiSogra was taken by two men in his car.

15 Minutes' Work

An Army sticker on DiSogra's car got them by the gate at Ft. Hamilton. At the bank DiSogra and the assistant manager were forced to open the vault. Police said the gunmen tied up DiSogra and four women employees in a women's restroom and were so thorough that they even sprayed black paint on the lens of the bank's closed-circuit television camera.

After the 15-minute robbery, the men called the Baratta home and told the third man, "We're leaving now." The hostages were released a short time later by police.

Police said they did not know how the gunmen escaped but DiSogra's car was found in Brooklyn about two hours later.

Mohawk Airlines— Up, Up Away Again

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI) — Mohawk Airlines, grounded by a pilots' strike for 154 days, got back in the air on time today when Flight 40 left Burlington International Airport for Washington, D. C.

The BAC 111 jet departed on schedule at 6:45 a.m., made its first stop at the Albany, N. Y., County Airport at 7:15, then headed for White Plains and Washington.

Today's schedule called for a total of 150 flights to and from 21 airports in the Northeast. Mohawk, the nation's fourth largest regional air carrier, served 2½ million passengers in the strike which began last fall. Full post-strike service is scheduled for early next month.

A spokesman at company headquarters in Utica, N.Y., said about 2,000 passengers booked reservations for the initial flights.

A little more than a third of the line's employees were back at work. Eighty-five of the approximately 800 are pilots.

The first flight out of Mohawk's home base, Oneida County Airport, was a 7 a.m. flight to Syracuse and Washington.

Other airports on the first day's flight schedule included Boston, Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, Elmira, Hartford, Kennedy, LaGuardia, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Montreal, Newark, Pittsburgh, Providence, Rochester and Toronto.

The Mohawk spokesman said the company will reach full employment strength of 2,200 on May 9, down 300 from its pre-strike force. Of the 396 pilots who went on strike last Nov. 12, the number back on the job May 9 will total 355.

The airline was enabled to prepare for service resumption after an agreement was reached with the pilots to submit remaining issues in their contract dispute to binding arbitration, scheduled to begin later this month.

Freeman Readers Write Letters to Editor

April 12, 1971
The Calley Case
Editor, The Freeman:

I am gravely saddened at the evident lack of conscience on the part of the American people and our representatives in their overwhelming desire to free Lt. William Calley. The charge that he alone is not responsible for the murders at My Lai is true, the conclusion that he is in no way responsible is a travesty of justice. Based on the facts as I understand them, Lt. Calley is without a question a man who went far beyond the pale of 'doing his duty as he understands it,' and committed acts of violence as cold blooded and sadistic as any I have heard of. How much of his behavior was due to stress and inhuman Army indoctrination I do not know, but we cannot just let Calley walk free.

Understand that I do not wish to punish Calley. To do so would not restore a single life lost at My Lai, nor would it serve to prevent future My Lai's. But we can perhaps prevent a future act of violence right here in America, by seeing that Calley is given psychiatric help, by turning loose a man with a heart, not the deSade of My Lai.

I am further convinced that trials and convictions must not stop with Lt. Calley. We must go right up the ladder and, I am afraid, end with the trials of both Lyndon Johnson and Richard Nixon. War crimes are not isolated incidents in Indochina, a painful fact I am sure you are aware of. This is the foulest of recent wars, a war in which we are the aggressor, and not for the reasons the administration has presented to the American public. If the world is ever again to look upon the United States with a respect not born of greed or fear, you, our representatives, must act now.

Respectfully,

Car Crusher Gets Grounded In Wawarsing

ELLENVILLE
The car crusher operating in the Town of Wawarsing for the past week, has left, according to Town Supervisor Frank W. Harkin.

The operator of the crusher, a Mr. Zolkan from Liberty, left word that the ground had become too soft for him to operate, but he would return when the ground firms up, according to Harkin. Harkin was unable to get a final count of the number of junk cars crushed from Zolkan.

When the crusher returns he will set up in the Greenfield Park area.

The Ellenville Scrap Iron Metal Co., 34 Cape Avenue, has the capacity and equipment to destroy and remove junk cars according to Harkin, and the firm has been included in the town's spring clean-up campaign.

Ellenville Scrap Iron pays for all junk cars brought in, Zolkan does not.

Comments Young People

Editor, The Freeman:

As a resident of Connelly who takes pride in the appearance of our property and surroundings, I want to take this opportunity to thank all those young people who did such a tremendous job in cleaning up the woodlands along Connelly Road.

I sincerely hope that all the people who use this road will show their appreciation to those who took part in the cleanup campaign by refraining from littering and dumping rubbish there. These young folks are to be commended, along with all the others, for their efforts.

Yours truly,
MRS. A. G. BRAEMER,

Control of Nuclear Plants

Editor, The Freeman:

The following letter has been sent to Assemblyman H. Clark Bell, Senator Jay Rolison and Governor Rockefeller:

It has just come to my attention that a proposal on the control of present and future nuclear plants in N.Y. State awaits Governor Rockefeller's action. This proposal would, in effect, officially sign away N.Y. State's right to have any say in the location, construction, supervision or policing of such plants, with their attendant radioactive hazards. It would, instead, leave these matters entirely in the hands of the Atomic Energy Commission in Washington. The A.E.C. would thus be the ultimate judge and jury of what does or does not constitute radioactive risks for the residents of N.Y. State.

I believe that to waive state authority in this matter would be disastrous. It would be similar to allowing General Motors, say, to make the sole decisions of what constitutes a safe car, or of permitting the Pure Food and Drug Administration to manufacture those very products whose effectiveness they are required to assess!

Several states in the West and mid-West are going to court over this issue of their right to control the siting, construction and safety of nuclear plants proposed for their areas. They are doing this because they believe that factors of local environment, of population density, of State scientists' opinions, etc. should determine the level of permissible radioactivity to which their residents would be exposed. They do not believe that decisions on such potentially hazardous matters should be left to Washington.

New York State should join these other states in their refusal to abdicate to the A.E.C., and we urge you to use your considerable influence to see that Albany obtains the freedom, the power and the right to make such vital decisions.

Respectfully yours,
NED LEHAC

Broadway East Houses

Editor, The Freeman:

Do I read correctly — 135 units of housing for the Urban Renewal Project referring to the Broadway East Houses near the new City Hall. $3.8 million dollars of the taxpayers money averages out to $28,148.14 per apartment. Pretty nice accommodations, don't you think? Meanwhile, how many thousands of people in Ulster County alone are holding down two jobs in order to help pay for this project through taxes?

I resent strongly working as hard as I do, as I am sure many others do, in order to pay these high taxes. Why can't these so-called under privileged go out and work for a $28,000 house to live in?

The Supreme Court is always reversing verdicts on the grounds that they are unconstitutional. By the same token, paying exorbitant taxes is unconstitutional.

People of the United States; I say, refuse to pay these taxes and unite to make this the strong country that it once was.

Sincerely,
MRS. DONALD C. BENHAM

Registration of Voters

Editor, The Freeman:

A recent Freeman article indicated that a proposal by the Board of Elections to provide for the registration of qualified voters at various locations throughout the county was meeting with opposition from several county legislators. These anonymous legislators felt that such an accommodation would be "catering to students and a waste of money."

Such an irresponsible statement cannot go unchallenged. The exercise of an American's right and responsibility to vote can not be loosely termed a waste of money. In a period in our history in which responsible people are trying to convince our disillusioned youth to operate within our political system to effect peaceful change, such a statement can only serve to further alienate.

The stated purpose of the proposal by the Board of Elections was to register qualified voters. Would these legislators deny the vote to any qualified voter? Or are they afraid that if more people exercise their right to vote that these voters might possibly vote against them because of their failure to serve their constituents?

During the central registration period, lasting from January through August, a new voter can register in Ulster County only during the hours of 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on normal business days. For most working people or students, it is virtually impossible to travel to the County office building during this period. Therefore, those voters must spend up to several hours waiting on line on the one Saturday during the year that registration is held in their towns.

Another, more vicious objection was raised that 18 to 21 year olds must register this year if they intend to vote in national or local primaries in 1972. Furthermore, although not participate in all official party matters. Perhaps the fear of their influence in inner party circles has prompted this at older, to register and exercise their right to vote.

For example, they can become party committeemen and participate in all official party matters. Perhaps the fear of their influence in inner party circles has prompted this at older, to register and exercise their right to vote.

Rumored Albany Mall Probe Extends to Other Sectors

AUBURN, N.Y. (UPI) — A long-rumored federal investigation into gambling and loan-sharking at the $1 billion South Mall state office complex in Albany has been extended to construction industry sites in eastern and central New York, UPI learned Tuesday.

The South Mall investigation, confirmed only recently by U.S. Attorney James M. Sullivan Jr. has been under way for about a year. Grand juries in several cities in the federal court system's Northern District of New York have been involved in the case. One such grand jury, sitting here, handed up a partial report Tuesday — but there were no indictments or reports concerning the South Mall or related matters.

Sullivan, reached by telephone at his Syracuse office, said while the investigation involves alleged wrongdoing at the 98-acre project in Albany, "This is a very complex investigation concerning an extensive problem."

Asked whether he expected indictments, Sullivan said: "I certainly expect there will be. This is a very extensive investigation."

He said information regarding the case has been presented to nearly every grand jury in the district, which covers 29 counties, since the investigation began. The Northern District stretches from this community in the Finger Lakes to New England, and from Canada through the Southern Tier.

"Certain aspects of the investigation," Sullivan told UPI, "might go outside the district."

He declined comment on specific details of alleged wrongdoing. He said the Auburn panel had heard or would hear testimony in the case — and could return indictments before a new trial term and another grand jury is seated May 4 in Albany.

Sullivan, who said he was "supervising" the inquiry, added that the investigation had been handled by Michael Blommer of the Justice Department in Washington. Blommer has since left the department to become counsel to a congressional committee.

Sullivan said he is now "attempting to assemble several men to continue the investigation."

Sullivan said two persons had been indicted several months ago on minor gambling charges as a result of the far-reaching investigation.

Most of the investigative work has been done by the FBI and the Internal Revenue Service, Sullivan said, and it was concerned with "all federal violations within the mall or not."

Auburn Jury Indicts 9 Persons For Alleged $6 Million Tax Dodging

AUBURN, N.Y. (UPI) — Nine persons were indicted for alleged U.S. tax law violations amounting to more than $6 million by a federal grand jury Tuesday.

The indictments involve a total of 37 counts involving alleged unreported or falsely reported income or gross receipts. Those indicted come from widely separated sections of upstate New York.

Roy A. Hanson, Oswego, an officer of the Sawyer Foundry and Machine Works, was charged with six counts of evasion of income tax and false declaration of income.

The government claimed Hanson reported $75,000 in income porting $193,462 gross revenues from the partnership of the

for the years 1964 through 1967 when he allegedly earned more than $351,000 in taxable income. He also was charged with re-

Sawyer company in 1964 and $188,924 during 1965, while the government claimed gross revenues were $258,691 and $255,707. Nayee A. Durham, Rouses Point, was charged with four counts of filing false returns and fraudulent returns for the years 1964 through 1967. The government said Durham did not file gross receipts for a money changing business in the amounts of $1,074,500; $1,599,700; $1,697,500 and $1,004,000.

Four counts of tax evasion and willful failure to file were charged against Edward F. Aneskievich of High View, Sullivan County. In 1964 and 1965, he filed taxable income of $1,703 while the government claimed he had taxable income totaling more than $93,000. The government also said he failed to report gross income of $61,502 in 1964 and $38,484 in 1965.

William Giametta, Newburgh, was charged with seven counts of evasion of taxes and false declaration of income. The government alleged that as president of the Mid-Hudson Leather Goods Co., Giametta failed to file corporate income totaling more than $76,000 for 1964 through 1966 and failed to file the corporate tax for the corporation in the years 1965 and 1966. The government also charged he failed to file on personal income totaling $37,000 in 1965 and 1966, when his returns listed only an income of $2,554.

Norman L. Hess, Lake Placid, was indicted on three counts of willful failure to file on income totaling $91,000 during the years 1964 through 1966.

Richard C. Puel, Albany, was indicted on four counts of willful failure to file on income for 1964 through 1967. The government said his income during that period totaled more than $74,000.

James A. Hatch, of New Lebanon, Columbia County, was charged with six counts of evasion of income tax. While Hatch filed on income totaling $58,000 for the years 1964 through 1967, the government said his taxable income totaled $125,000.

The indictments also charged that Hatch failed to file corporate income for the Hatch Milk Hauling Co. Inc., totaling $22,500 for the years 1966 and 1967.

Three counts of evasion of income tax and making false income tax returns were brought against Clifford and Phyllis Reed of Oneonta. The indictments alleged the Reeds claimed $4,534 income in 1964; $12,019 in 1965 and a loss of $12,632 in 1966. During the same period, the government said, the couple's income was $24,997; $29,102 and $360.88.

The U.S. Economic Advisors Are Brimming With Optimism

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the evidence due later this week, White House economic advisors suddenly are brimming with optimism over the nation's economic performance in the first three months of the year.

"We are not only going to see a strong gain," predicted chief economic advisor Paul W. McCracken, "but there is some evidence the pace of the economy quickened as we moved toward the end of the first quarter."

McCracken, chairman of President Nixon's Council of Economic Advisors, referred to the upcoming release of gross national product figures, the output of the country's goods and services in January, February and March.

Although other statistical indicators have pointed to a possible weak showing by GNP during the first quarter, McCracken sees the situation differently.

He told newsmen Tuesday auto sales and retail sales, in particular, stepped up sharply during the last part of the three-month period.

"This is usually a harbinger of things to come in the economy," he said. As to the impact on reducing inflation and unemployment, "I'll take a little time. It always does."

GNP, the "broadest measure of the pace of the economy," tentatively scheduled to be released Friday. The council has predicted it will grow by 9 per cent this year and has stuck by the prediction despite lower forecasts by private economists. The faster growth of the economy, as the council sees it, is supposed to bring down unemployment to 4.5 per cent and reduce the rate of inflation to 3 per cent by mid-1972.

The administration is shooting for a first-quarter growth of about $30 billion in GNP to keep the economy on the track Nixon has laid out. His advisors are hoping a strong rebound in auto production will provide most of the early impetus.

McCracken made his comments on the economy's performance as the White House released its third "inflation alert," a report on wage and price developments in the last three months.

The alert said the steel industry would be hurt by sharply reduced employment and its competitive position would be jeopardized if steelworkers win a large increase in wages during upcoming negotiations. But the alert stopped short of calling wage demands by steelworkers inflationary, nor did it specify what kind of wage hike would be acceptable to the White House. But it emphasized Nixon is unhappy with wage demands reported to range between 26 and 32 per cent over a three year period.

In Pittsburgh, Steelworkers President I.W. Abel said the union will follow its previously outlined bargaining position. "The facts clearly demonstrate steelworkers have been the victims of inflation, not the cause of it. The facts clearly show that the purchasing power of steelworkers has declined."

Damage to the 52-year-old Pick Carter Hotel, which underwent a $1 million remodeling two years ago, was estimated at well over $100,000 by fire officials.

Thirteen members of the touring company of "Hair" were staying at the hotel, many of them with their families. About 200 guests, many of them permanent residents, were registered in the 11-story, 600-room hotel.

The victims were Robin Johnson, 18, of Renton, Wash.; her daughter Melissa, 1; Carroll Carlson, 23, and her daughter Corina, 1, of St. Louis; Gaston Le Blanc, 69, of Pittsburgh; Robert J. Loftus, 66, of Youngstown, Ohio, and Arthur Thomas, 26, of Ft. Sill, Okla.

Hotel General Manager Andrew T. Ginn said the blaze started in a lower lobby ballroom. "It happened so quickly we didn't know what to do. It spread faster than you would expect a fire to spread," he said.

Firemen arriving at the scene found many guests hanging from third, fourth and fifth-floor windows, shouting for help. Many climbed down ladders. Firemen groped through the thick smoke to lead others to safety.

"When are they going to get out of there?" screamed one of the guests.

Different Standards Used In Selling Data of IRS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Firms that prepare income tax returns for wealthier Americans are barred from selling or disclosing personal data. Firms catering to the less affluent are not.

In separate interviews, this situation was acknowledged by officials of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) and by tax profession leaders.

The lack of controls on the largest and fastest growing segment of the tax preparation business has prompted an FTC investigation of allegations that some firms sell their clients' names, income figures and other personal information to mailing list houses, stores, insurance companies and others.

Disclosure Ban Possible

Sen. Charles McC. Mathias Jr., R-Md., has introduced legislation to ban such practices.

"It is both ludicrous and alarming" to have the IRS holding a tax return in the strictest secrecy while private firms are shipping and selling the same information all over the country without the taxpayer's knowledge and consent," Mathias said.

However, Richard C. Foster, heading the FTC investigation, said the agency discovered it did not need to check law and accounting firms that prepare tax forms for thousands of corporations, executives and others with high incomes.

Effective Self-Policing

Headed by lawyers or certified public accountants, these firms are bound by strict ethical codes barring any use or disclosure of a client's tax data. Violators can be punished by their peers or lose their licenses.

IRS and FTC officials said this self-policing system has been in effect for decades and works effectively. But these firms are little known to the general public because their work includes tax appeals and other negotiations with IRS. The IRS prohibits advertising by any firm which practices before it.

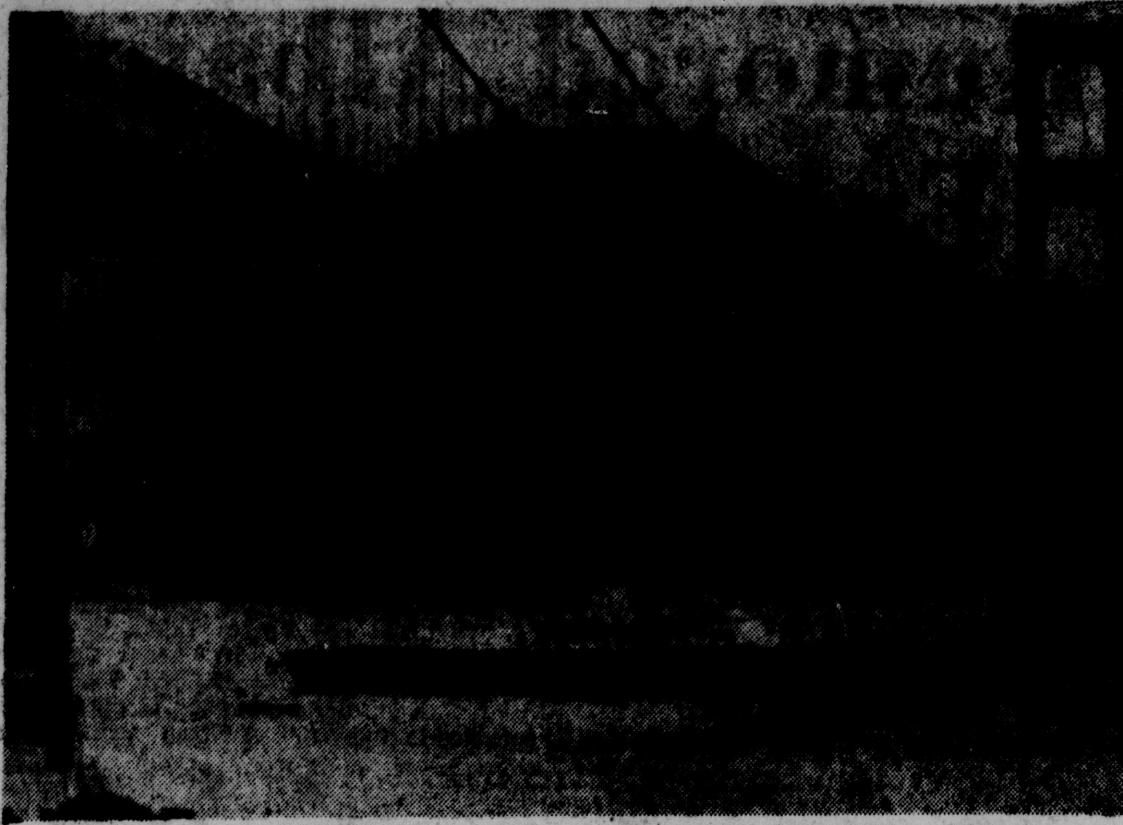

Tax preparation firms appealing to the mass market are not under the same restraints, although Foster emphasized the FTC has no evidence that misuse of taxpayers' data is widespread.

With no law or professional code barring these firms from disclosing clients' data, the FTC would have to interpret such practices as inherently unfair or deceptive before it could take action. Foster said no such decision has been made pending completion of the investigation.

Arrest Youth on Endangerment, Other Charges

ELLENVILLE State Police have reported the Tuesday morning arrest of an 18-year-old youth who allegedly attempted to run down a security guard in a parking lot at the Nevele Hotel.

Henry A. Rosenstock of Ellenville was charged with harassment, criminal trespass, fourth degree and second degree reckless endangerment. He was also charged with several minor vehicle and traffic violations.

Police state that Rosenstock was trespassing on the grounds of the Nevele Hotel at about 1 a. m. Tuesday. Nevele Security Guard Bruce Quick reportedly told the youth to leave, but Rosenstock then allegedly got into his car and tried to run Quick down.

State Police say Quick was able to detain the youth while a call was put through to the Ellenville barracks for assistance. BCI Investigator Kenneth Graham and Troopers D. Dyman and J. Kelley arrived at the scene a short time later and made the arrest.

Quick, reported police, was not injured in the incident. Rosenstock was arraigned early Tuesday before Town of Wawarsing Justice Harold S. Wawarsing. He was released in the custody of his parents pending a hearing at a date to be announced.

Triple Benefits Asked for Mrs. Speno

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI)—The state comptroller's office today confirmed that a bill sponsored by Long Island legislators would nearly triple the death benefits payable to the widow of Sen. Edward Speno, R-East Meadow.

Although the measure follows the custom of paying widows the $15,000 salary their husband would have earned in his last year, the key to the measure is that it would consider Speno to have served 20 years, thus raising his death benefits from $79,515 to $214,800.

The main sponsors are Assemblyman Joseph Margiotta, R-Uniondale, and Sen. John D. Caemmerer, R-East Williston.

Speno, 50, a transportation expert and chairman of the Senate Codes Committee, died last month of an apparent heart attack. He had served in the Senate for 16 years, and had gained an additional three years credit for time in the military.

First Quarter IBM Earnings Show Increase

NEW YORK (AP)—Gross income and earnings both climbed for International Business Machines in the first quarter of this year, the computer-maker reported Tuesday.

Net earnings rose to $250.81 million compared with $230.26 million in the same quarter of 1970. Per share earnings were up from $2.02 to $2.19 over the same period.

Gross income in the first three months of fiscal 1971 was $1.87 billion, up from $1.72 billion at the same time a year ago.

Chairman Thomas J. Watson Jr. said the increases resulted from a 15.9 per cent climb in rental and service gross income throughout company operations. Watson pointed out that orders booked in the first quarter were disappointing, especially domestically, but said he was optimistic about the long-term prospect for the data processing industry.

Kingston Girl Faces Speeding, DWI Charges

KINGSTON—An 18-year-old Kingston girl will appear in City Court later today to answer charges following her arrest early this morning for speeding and driving while intoxicated.

City Police say Jane Bishop of 11 Klingberg Avenue was stopped for speeding on The Boulevard at 3 a.m. today, and then cited for DWI.

The girl, who said she was employed as a maid, was held over in the city lockup pending her court appearance today.

Without the 20 years' service, his death benefits would have been $79,515, including $38,000 he paid into the plan.

If the bill is approved, Speno's widow, Audrey, would receive $215,000 plus $19,500 for his salary and allowances.

Speno, an attorney, reported in 1969 that his job and real estate dealings had earned him net assets of $2.3 million.

Computer Boggs Down Data On Blue Shield Payment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government today began the first major conversion of its chemical and biological war complex to peaceful uses.

A Defense Department plant at Pine Bluff, Ark., that once developed killer germs will become a center for research into the effects on man of everyday chemicals.

In line with President Nixon's announcement last November ending production of chemicals and germ warfare agents, the Defense Department is presenting to the Food and Drug Administration a "right of entry" letter that begins the new role for a portion of the Pine Bluff arsenal.

Within one year, the FDA and other federal units are scheduled to occupy all 33 buildings at Pine Bluff.

They will constitute the new biological Research investigating long-term health effects of food additives, industrial and household chemicals, pesticides, cosmetics and drugs.

The purpose, said FDA Commissioner Charles C. Edwards in remarks prepared for a ceremony at Pine Bluff, is "to extend our knowledge of the chronic, persistent and often insidious effects of an increasing array of chemical substances found in man's environment."

"Through past research we already know many of the short-term effects of high rates of exposure to chemicals. This is the easy part."

"But this center hopefully will enable us to develop a vital new knowledge about cumulative effects and possible connection to mutations, birth defects, cancer, or other diseases and debilities."

Edwards emphasized the center is intended to be not a national testing laboratory but a research complex that will develop test methods for others to employ.

The blowing dust and sand jammed the traffic lights in Lubbock.

Dean Nichols, the tip of his baseball cap pulled down over his forehead to protect him from the blowing dust, walked around his 10-room Orick farmhouse and said he was blowing up the grass in the backyard and replacing it with rocks and gravel. Water is scarce in drought-crippled West Texas and grass needs water.

"If I had an airplane today, I could go up about 1,000 feet and homestead one of the best farms in Lubbock County," Nichols said. "On real bad days like today, crops lose up to one inch of topsoil and it takes seven years to replace that one inch."

The dust and dirt filled the air when West Texas awakened Tuesday morning. It reached its peak by noon and then slackened. By 5 p.m. the skies were spotless.

The southwest United States desperately needs rain to avoid a disaster not seen in this area since the Dust Bowl days in the 1930s. Parts of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado have had no rain to speak of in seven months.

News Editors Asked to Support Law to Protect Sources Anonymity

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Society of Newspaper Editors, opening its 1971 convention today, has been asked to support a proposed "national shield law" protecting the anonymity of news sources.

The ASNE's Freedom of Information Committee, with the apparent support of Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, told the 500 editors such a law would protect reporters from court orders, fines and imprisonment if they refused to disclose news sources.

"The weapon most used against press freedom this year was the subpoena," the committee said. "Its use reached epidemic proportions."

The committee criticized Defense Department secrecy on the unsuccessful Son Tay raid to free American prisoners in North Vietnam and what it called "raw censorship" on some recent military operations in Laos.

The infrequency of President Nixon's news conferences was described as a matter of grave concern despite several recent meetings with smaller groups of newsmen in his office. "It is our hope that still more of these mini-conferences will be held," said the committee.

A panel of four editors and two White House correspondents will question Nixon Friday.

Williams was arrested by Rhinebeck state police along River Road in the Town of Hyde Park at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday.

He was charged with public intoxication. A routine search revealed a quantity of marijuana in his possession.

He pleaded guilty to both charges at arraignment before Town of Hyde Park Justice Eugene Simpson. He paid a $25 fine the public intoxication charge.

day. At White House request the discussion will not be televised.

Several bills protecting reporters' confidential news sources have been introduced in Congress. Mitchell, who last year curbed the subpoena powers of federal courts and prosecutors attempting to elicit newsmen's unpublished information, suggested legislation would provide the only adequate protection.

Some law-enforcement officers use subpoenas to try to force the press to do their investigating and some lawyers use them to harass newsmen, the report said.

"Never has the subpoena been used as viciously, as irresponsibly and as often against freedom of the press as it has this year," it added.

Cases are pending in the Supreme Court and a number of states, and decisions against reporters recently have been handed down in Kentucky, Wisconsin and Massachusetts.

Seventeen states now have shield laws, the committee said. White described bills by Reps. Edward I. Koch, D-N.Y., and Charles Whalen Jr., R-Ohio, as "coming closest to an ideal practical and possible" national law.

Reagan Talks About Life

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI)

On a typical day, Gov. Ronald Reagan rises at a comfortable hour, washes down a dietary breakfast with orange juice, gets to work by 9 and is driven home before 6 in a limousine his children call "the big black ugly."

"I'm not one of those crack of dawn until all hours of the evening men, no sir," the governor says. "I work real hard trying to maintain some normal home life."

Reagan is fond of recalling that by the time he was hosting "Death Valley Days" on television in the mid-1960s, his work week was averaging less than two days.

"I was always afraid of overexposure," he said, "and so I enjoyed a show where I could be on only about a minute each week, then periodically appear in a starring role I'd choose for myself."

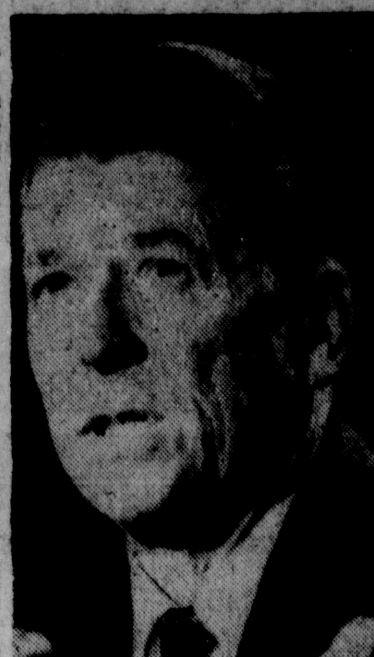

Thinks Himself Into Politics Reagan thought himself right into politics. And somewhere between "Death Valley Days" and the Republican National Convention of 1968 his lifestyle and public image changed from actor to politician.

He and his wife, Nancy, an attractive former actress, have discovered politics is "a little bit like show business. It's a virus." And he concedes "there will be a readjustment back" when they retire from public life.

Once he does return to private life, Reagan says a good deal of his time will be spent on horseback. He now owns 375 acres near Riverside and still has access to a small piece of a Malibu ranch property, which he sold for $2-million.

The governor's schedule normally is arranged so he can stay weekends at his Western-style home in Pacific Palisades. When these weekends aren't absorbed by speaking engagements or office "homework," he sometimes gets back to the Malibu ranch.

Golf Occasionally Occasionally he gets in a golf game with close friends and campaign supporters, such as William French Smith and Holmes Tuttle, or perhaps former Sen. George Murphy. Rubbernecking motorists sometimes are surprised to see the governor playing touch football on the front lawn of his Sacramento residence with the neighbor kids. "We don't really have enough for two teams," the 60-year-old former college guard says with a smile, "so I play quarterback for both sides and call the passing."

Reagan and his wife have two children — Patti, 18, a Northwestern freshman, and Ronald "Skipper," nearly 13.

Would Reagan want his children to go into politics? "I don't know," he says slowly. "I still have that reluctant feeling about the fellow who makes it a career. I see too many things happen."

Paltz Reports Out April 23

The third quarterly marking period ended Wednesday at New Paltz Central High School. Report cards will be mailed to parents Friday April 23, and should be received in Saturday's mail.

Teachers will be at the school Wednesday April 28 beginning at 7:30 p.m. to confer with parents about their child's marks. Those parents wishing to spend longer than 10 minutes with a teacher should make an appointment for another time through High School Principal John L. Wyman.

Cutter on Mercy Mission

Coast Guard Petty Officer Second Class Jules J. DeLuca, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. DeLuca Sr. of 31 Prince Street, Kingston, was a crew member aboard the U. S. Coast Guard Cutter Winnebago which returned to Honolulu bearing two merchant seamen under medical care and escorting a stricken vessel. The 255-foot cutter has returned from a 32-day Ocean Station "Victor" patrol in the North Pacific. One ill seaman was evacuated from a Greek vessel by small boat and the other from a German freighter where he had suffered internal injuries from a fall. After refueling at Midway Island, the cutter Winnebago escorted the Hong Kong Exporter, a British ship with a flooded cargo hold to Honolulu for repairs.

Area Army Guards Earned $305,382

KINGSTON — The total of taxable earnings paid to members of the local 1st Battalion, 156th Artillery, New York Army National Guard, amounted to $305,382.80 last year, according to Lt. Col. Karl V. Verbeck, battalion commander.

"This includes," Lt. Col. Verbeck said, "B and C Batteries in Newburgh, A Battery in Poughkeepsie, and Headquarters and Service Batteries in Kingston. In each case, this payroll contributes greatly to the economy of each community as well as most of the Hudson Valley."

To clarify the earnings figures, Lt. Col. Verbeck pointed out that this does not include the payroll for state army employees, full-time civilian technicians, nor active duty for training pay of certain enlisted personnel under the Reserve Forces Act.

The taxable earnings represent pay to guardsmen for regular training assemblies, field training at Camp Drum, attendance at Regular Army schools, and special training exercises. The breakdown for each community in the 156th Artillery shows that guardsmen in Kingston earned $145,570.41 last year, in Poughkeepsie $61,333.06, and in Newburgh $98,479.33.

Veteran News

KINGSTON — Persons incurring funeral expenses of a deceased veteran may be reimbursed for $250 of those expenses, reminded Charles Culver state veteran counselor and John Tyler, Veterans Service Agency director.

Application for reimbursement, they said, should be made within two years of the burial or cremation.

The veterans officials explained that reimbursement can be made for burial expenses of veterans of the Spanish-American War, World War I, World War II, the Korean War, the Vietnam War, and for veterans of peace-time service who were receiving compensation payments for service-connected injuries at the time of their death, or were discharged or retired for a disability in line of duty.

Of course, Culver and Tyler noted, the veteran must have been discharged under conditions other than dishonorable. If a veterans was not eligible for a burial allowance because of the nature of his discharge, the allowance is payable if his discharge has been corrected by competent authority to other than dishonorable. Then, the person incurring the burial expenses has until two years from the date of discharge correction in which to file for reimbursement.

Additional costs for transportation of the remains may be allowed if the veteran died while in a VA hospital or hospitalized in a private institution at VA expense, or while the veteran was traveling at VA expense to or from a hospital.

Assistance in filing for reimbursement, Mr. Tyler and Mr. Culver said, is available at the local office of the New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs and Veterans' Service Agency located at County Office Building, Kingston, New York, 12401 Office Hours Monday thru Friday — 9:00 a.m. to 3 p.m.

There's no limit on the number of children in a deceased veteran's family who are eligible for educational benefits under the War Orphans Educational Assistance Act. They are generally entitled to benefits when they reach 18 and remain eligible, even though they may marry, until they are 26 years old.

Thwart that mail box thief by having your VA benefit checks sent directly to your local bank. Your local veteran counselor can help you make the arrangements authorizing the bank to deposit your checks in your personal account.

Five-year GI term insurance policies become increasingly prohibitive in cost as a veteran ages. If you haven't already done so, consider converting your term insurance to a permanent plan with stable premium payments.

Glascio Ceremonies

Parishioners and the general public are invited to attend informal groundbreaking ceremonies for the new parish hall at St. Joseph's Church, Glascio, Thursday, 5 p.m.

Advice Given on Cleanup Burning

WOODSTOCK Spring cleanup time is here again. As usual, people will begin their yearly burning, Woodstock Fire Prevention Officer C. Robert Rifenburg announced.

I would like to remind everyone in the Township of Woodstock that it is necessary to obtain a burning permit before you burn. You must have this permit in your possession when burning, he said.

These permits are issued by Robert Reynolds, who has been designated by the State Conservation Department as the environmental officer of the Woodstock area. He is located at 4 Pine Grove Street and his office is open from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

On the back of each permit are specific conditions for which Woodstock Fire Department the permit has been granted. If answers many calls for brush these conditions are adhered to, fires which could have been prevented if the proper precautions had been taken. This year non-existent. Every year the lets try to burn only when conditions permit and keep the fire calls to a minimum, Rifenburg said.

Another reminder to everyone within the Township: Woodstock now has a 24-hour emergency dispatch service and should be called when any emergency arises — fire, oxygen, ambulance or need of police assistance.

MYP Plans Recycling Drive

WOODSTOCK There will be an outdoor cleanup day at the Overlook United Methodist Church on Saturday, beginning at 9 a.m. Men of the congregation and the young people are urged to come with rakes.

On April 24, the Junior MYF will be redeemed by the members and the proceeds placed in the MYF treasury for youth activities.

Aluminum tins are soft and pliable and will bend easily to the touch. They may also be tested with a magnet. A magnet will not adhere to aluminum. Area residents are urged to collect these items now and deposit them at one of the various collection centers. Deposit bottles save them for the MYF drive.

Golden Eagles Win Dart Championship

HIGH WOODS Sperl and Alson Finger served as umpires.

Golden Eagles won the Saugerties Dartball League championship over playoff winners Quarryville 18-8 and 14-8 in Monday night's series following the annual league banquet at High Woods Sportsmen's clubhouse.

As part of the pre-game ceremonies William Meiswinkle of Golden Eagles and William Wolven of Trinity were named Dartball Men of the Year and each was presented a plaque by League President Virgil Finger.

The most valuable player choice for the two games placed four men in contention, Roland Hommel and Raymond Lang Jr. of Quarryville and Angelo Castillo and 'Mouse' Wolven of the Eagles. As there was only one award, the choice was decided by lot and young Lang won.

Despite eight home runs by Quarryville, the Eagles won two straight on the consistent hitting of Castillo, Wolven and Ed Green. The final game was decided by a 10-run seventh inning by the Eagles who scored only two home runs.

The auxiliary of High Woods Sportsmen's Association served the roast beef dinner. William

It Will be a Working Walk for Moon Pilot Worden

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Apollo 15 moon pilot Alfred M. Worden plans to take a working walk in space 200,000 miles from earth on Aug. 5.

It will be by far the most distant spacewalk and for the first time, the whole show will be televised "live" back to earth in color.

Most other U.S. and Soviet spacewalks have been experimental. But Worden's is necessary. He will retrieve two film cassettes from a pair of telescopic moon mapping cameras mounted in a new experimental bay in the command ship's cylindrical service module.

Worden, 39-year-old Air Force major making his first spaceflight, will remain in lunar orbit while David R. Scott and James B. Irwin explore the moon's surface for almost three days, probably will never be explored on foot.

In addition to the surface activity, the astronauts will spend another three days in lunar orbit to photograph the moon and to use a new set of radiation sensors to survey rugged highland areas that feet from a 69-mile altitude. Worden also will launch the satellite and the Apollo 15 instruments will be radioed to be done in less than half that time.

The other will cover broader areas, use a laser altimeter to mark the precise altitude for study radiation around the moon and look for quirks in the moon's magnetic and gravitational fields.

Worden said in an interview that one hour will be allotted to any way — a very leisurely EVA 12 days.

Worden also will launch the satellite and the Apollo 15 instruments will be radioed to be done in less than half that time.

"If we are in any kind of a rush at all, we could do it in 10 to 15 minutes. But we've got as setting a new space-flight hour, so it should be — I hope, duration record for an Apollo of anyway — a very leisurely EVA 12 days.

Blue Patrol Bicycles

An informational column designed and sponsored by the Kingston Patrolmen's Association to enlighten the area citizens and make them more aware and alert to the laws and rules that are established to protect them, their families, and their property, in the hope of promoting understanding between the general public and the local law-enforcement agency's function in this modern-day society.

Now that most of the snow is gone, and the highways begin to look more like public streets and less like toboggan runs, we'll soon be experiencing the bicyclists and perhaps that newcomer, the Mini-bike, together with the additional attention their operation requires, not only of their respective operators, but also of the general motoring public.

Contrary to some people's belief, there ARE operational rules that apply to bicycle-riding upon the public highways, and even MORE SO to the operation of a mini-bike.

Bicycling, an economical rapid-transit system enjoyed by oldsters as well as youngsters, is considered advantageous to your health, in that it provides some exercise to the operator, in this push-button age of electronic wizardry, television-watching, and inactivity. Safe and proper operation of the bicycle may assist in prolonging that health and welfare, if you are diligently aware of and obey the rules of the road. Drive to the right, obey the stop-signs, red lights, yield signs, and one-way street travel; bicycles are required to obey the same rules that apply to a motor vehicle. And STAY OFF THE SIDEWALKS with those 2-wheelers! Sidewalks are for the pedestrians, NOT for bicycling! Be concerned with your actions when you're driving a bicycle, and watch out for the ears, they're doing their best to watch out for you, so at least return the compliment.

Parents are cautioned regarding their youngster's operation of mini-bikes upon the public highways; these are considered MOTOR VEHICLES and must not only be equipped, registered and insured like a motor vehicle or motorcycle in order to comply with the vehicle and traffic laws of this state, but the operator must be at least 16 years old and must possess a valid driver's license to legally operate it upon the public thoroughfare.

When parents purchase a mini-bike for their child to operate, a violation committed by the child COULD result in the suspension or revocation of the PARENT'S license or registration!

If your child has a mini-bike attempt to secure permission for him to operate it upon some private property, under your supervision, and instruct him in the safety and responsibilities of such operation; you'll be building a better citizen for our future.

New Laser

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — Two General Electric Co. scientists have developed a solid-state laser capable of power output reaching 100 kilowatts, the firm has announced. That is about one thousand times the amount of power lasers of this type now generate.

The scientists, Dr. William S. Martin and Mr. Joseph C. Almasi, say the new laser may be of use in satellites, optical devices, drills and welding equipment.

We think lawnmowers are for mowing. Not for fixing.

The 22" Model 1254 is that kind of mower. It features a solid, long wearing gear-driven self-propulsion system. And the power is on the front wheels, not the back... so all you have to do is tilt the machine back to turn it. You don't have to take it out of gear.

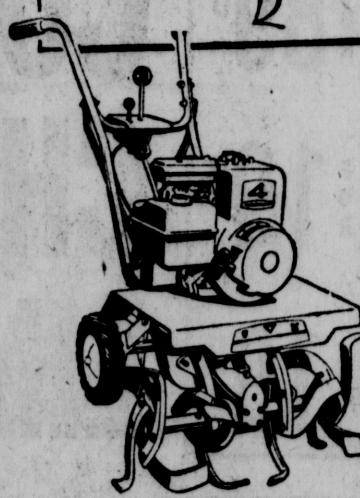

AMF's quadramatic suspension is another dependable effort saver. You adjust cutting height from 1" to 3" while the mower is running—simply by moving a lever.

The exclusive "Flexor" blade is still another feature. It bends... and the crankshaft doesn't have to. So we can guarantee the crankshaft for the life of the mower.

ALBANY Newly elected president of the Third District Dental Society comprising seven Eastern New York counties, is Dr. Saul Goldfarb of Kingston. He succeeds Dr. Joseph M. Sullivan of Troy and was elected Tuesday at the dentists' annual meeting at the Thruway Hyatt House in Albany.

Other elections at the meeting included Dr. Harvey S. Sutton of Albany, president-elect; Dr. Gerard A. Ripp, of Troy, vice president; Dr. Herbert G. Spieske of Albany, secretary, and Dr. Robert A. Olsen of Troy, treasurer.

Named as members of the District Executive Committee are Dr. Jeremiah Sachs of Kingston and Dr. Alan R. Meyer of Albany.

After luncheon the Third District dentists took part in a discussion of third party prepaid dental programs, a part of the program led by Ralph Hammersley Jr., executive director of Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Northeastern New York. They also viewed many exhibits arranged by dental suppliers of this area.

Esopus Development Names Liese

PORT EWEN Corporation was incorporated in 1963 under the New York State Job Development Act. The corporation is a non-profit organization consisting of public-minded businessmen of the community whose object is to help create, business and industry with resultant new jobs. Under this act, created by the legislature in 1961, the Industrial Development Corporation can secure second mortgages for industry seeking expansion and to prevent flight of industry from the area.

The Town of Esopus Development Corporation has brought the Dana Manufacturing plant, J. C. Metal Company and Pepco to Port Ewen in the past. Liese said that "hopefully, with the new sewer system which will be underway by 1972 and the new bridge across the Rondout Creek also slated for construction in 1972, a bright future may be in store for the Town of Esopus with a rapid and healthy industrial growth. This will mean a broader tax base and a relief of the tax burden on the local home owner."

Woman's Club of Saugerties Schedules Annual Meeting, Election of Officers

The last meeting of the 1970-71 Club year of Woman's Club of Saugerties will be held on Thursday, April 22, at 8 p.m. at the Dutch Arms Chapel. President Mrs. William Ashmore urges all Woman's Club members to attend this annual meeting, which will include the election of officers and Department Chairmen.

Also to be voted on are the revisions to the Club's by-laws, which will be presented by Mrs. George Leombruno, legislative chairman. Mrs. Walter Stolte, assistant treasurer, reminds all members that dues for the 1971-72 Club year are payable at the annual meeting. Mrs. Oliver Lackie, corresponding secretary, further reminds members that Department and committee selections should also be returned by April 22. Mrs. Patrick Buonfiglio will present the ballot showing the proposed slate of officers and Department Chairmen. The ballot to be presented will list: for president, Mrs.

Edward Jabs; first vice president, Mrs. Thomas Zulick; second vice president, Mrs. Edward Rusczyk; secretary, Mrs. Joseph La Susa; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Richard Dunn; treasurer, Mrs. William Ziegler; and assistant treasurer, Mrs. Walter Stolte. For Department Chairmen the following will be voted upon: home, Mrs. Frank Lauffer; literature and music, Mrs. Albert Curl; international affairs, Mrs. Robert Cole; education, Mrs. James Mills; and public affairs, Mrs. Wayne Brunkhurst. The nominations committee, with Mrs. Buonfiglio as chairman, included Mrs. Jerome

Milosek, Mrs. Albert Curl, Mrs. Robert Cole, and Mrs. Richard Dunn. Special feature of the evening will be a humorous yet educational skit on Parliamentary procedures. George Leombruno will present the original skit, which pokes a little fun at parliamentary procedures as "used and abused" by clubwomen. Mr. Leombruno is well-versed in proper parliamentary procedures, having been Parliamentarian during three administrations of the Saugerties Jaycees. He has been active in the Jaycees, serving on the local, state and national levels. He is currently Campaign Manager for Frank Antalek of Saugerties for the post of national president. Mr. Leombruno also serves the Town of Saugerties as Recreation Commission chairman.

DEAR ABBY: Enclosed is a clipping from your column as it appeared in the New Orleans States Item:

"CONFIDENTIAL TO AT WITS' END: It seems inconceivable to me that a registered nurse would be 'ashamed' to take her child to a doctor with recurring pinworms. Quit treating the boy with over-the-counter drugs and get that child to a doctor!"

Abby, shouldn't it be equally inconceivable to you, as it is to me, that a physician should have recurring pinworms? PHILIP C. SPERIER, Editor, Dixie Roto Magazine.

DEAR MR. SPERIER: I goofed and there is no worming my way out of it! Of the hundreds of editors and proofreaders who saw that item, few caught the error before it went to press; and you are the only editor to have called it to my attention afterward. Only two readers, Mrs. J. L. Harris of Portland, Ore., and Art Moyer of Albany, Ore., wrote to remark on it. Mea culpa.

DEAR ABBY: Can you please settle an argument between me and my husband? Our supervisor at the office tells us that it is rude to ask anyone who has been ill what was wrong with him. She says if the person volunteers the information, fine, but it is in poor taste to inquire. I say it's all right to ask because it shows you are really interested, and if they don't want to answer, they don't have to.

I will admit I have seen a couple of people blush when they were asked what was wrong with them. One was a lady who has had a female operation, and the other was a man who had painful rectal surgery.

My husband says the supervisor is right, and she is probably the supervisor and I am working for her because she knows what to say and what not to say. I'd like your opinion.

WILLING TO LEARN
DEAR WILLING: I vote with your husband.

There's No Getting Out of This One

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
[© 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N. E. News Synd., Inc.]

DEAR ABBY: You advised "Best Friend" to tell her girl friend that cross eyes can be corrected by surgery. You even suggested that the cross-eyed girl may not be "aware" of how she looks.

Abby, in the first place, if she is over three years old she knows how she looks. She will have heard nice older people say time and again, "Such a pretty child. Too bad about her eyes."

And from kindergarten on she'll have heard cruel remarks from other children to remind her that her eyes are "different." And if her eyes are like mine, and do not focus properly, people will keep asking her, "What are you looking at?" Surgery doesn't always help. I have had two operations on my eyes. Neither one worked. I used to be handicapped. But I'm not anymore, simply because I refuse to allow my defect to be the most important thing in my life. I do the best I can with what I have. My husband thinks I'm beautiful. And because he does, I am. Sign me,

AWARE

DEAR AWARE: A thousand apologies. Others wrote to tell me that not all crossed eyes can be corrected with surgery. Please forgive me.

Renko Scores Repeater

MONTREAL (AP) — It looks like the nine games played here and there on Tuesday they were beaten in their first 1971 Montreal appearance. A crowd of 21,996 rooted the Expos to a 4-1 victory as right-hander Steve Renko made it two straight over the Mets. He beat them 6-2 at Shea Stadium in New York last Thursday.

Renko was touched for eight hits, struck out three, walked one and had a shutout until the eighth. Then the Mets got their one run on a triple by Cleon Jones.

By that time the Expos led 3-0 on Ron Hunt's run in the first. John Bateman's home run in the second and Bob Bailey's run in the third on Ken Boswell's throwing error. Rusty Staub scored on a sacrifice fly by Ron Fairly for the Expo's last run in the eighth.

Losing pitcher was Gary Gentry who also lost to Renko in New York last week. Gentry was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

"Renko pitched a strong game," said his catcher, Bateman. "He had no special pitch; he was throwing everything that was in his repertoire. I didn't depend too much on any one pitch and I was throwing smoothly."

"Renko also pitched a good game for them," said Gil Hodges, manager of the Mets. "He got the outs when he needed them. I thought Gentry pitched a fine game for us, too, but they took advantage of our mistakes."

The teams play again today with Bill Stoneman slated to start for the Expos and Ray Saadecki for the Mets.

In other National League action, the Pittsburgh Pirates closed the Philadelphia Phillies, 9-3, to put their record at 5 and 2. Jackie Hernandez, the Bucs' substitute shortstop, collected a double and homer to boost his batting average to .444 with 6 RBI.

Johnny Bench uncorked his third home run in two nights and keyed a seventh-inning rally, with a single, as the Cincinnati Reds nudged Atlanta, 5-4. Houston outscored St. Louis, 4-4 and the Chicago Cubs nipped the Los Angeles Dodgers, 3-2. The San Diego-San Francisco contest was wiped out by rain.

Don Kessinger's eighth-inning single scored Jose Ortiz with the winning run for Chicago. Ortiz walked to start the rally, was sacrificed to second and roared home on Kessinger's bullet between shortstop and third base.

The loss was the third straight for Dodger ace Bill Singer, who only gave the Cubs two hits in the first six innings.

Joe Morgan's bases-filled single and Norm Miller's three-run homer with two outs in the ninth carried the Astros over the Cardinals. The Astros who took an early 3-0 lead, fell behind 4-3 when the Cubs broke a tie in the eighth and struck back against Mike Torrez in the last inning.

Stan Tames Tigers In Stadium Opener

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stan Bahun scattered 11 hits and tripled in a fifth-inning run Tuesday to lead the New York Yankees to a 5-2 home opening victory over the Detroit Tigers. Bahun gave up a sixth-inning homer to Norm Cash and a seventh-inning triple to pinchhitter Kevin Collins—who scored on Dick McAuliffe's ground out—while evening his record at 1-1.

Bahun also boosted the Yankees' lead to 3-0 in the fifth with a run-scoring triple off the glove of Gates Brown, who made a long lumbering run for the drive in left. Brown was playing for Willie Horton, who was benched with a .158 average.

The Yankees' first two runs off Joser Joe Nickro, now 0-2, came in the fourth inning. Roy White hit a one-out home run, and Bobby Murcer walked, stole second and then scored on Danny Cater's single.

White also scored the Yankees' fourth in the sixth inning on a balk by reliever Darrell Patterson, and the Yankees' final run came in the seventh on Thurman Munson's sacrifice fly.

The Yankees' home opener attracted 34,745 fans, their largest home opening crowd since 1966.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Boston Red Sox hit Denny McLain hard in a 5-3 win over the Washington Senators. McLain, who beat the Yankees last Friday night, was tagged for all five Boston runs before leaving for a pinch hitter in the fifth. He gave up seven hits, including homers by Carl Yastrzemski and Duane Josephson.

Kansas City downed Minnesota 5-3 in a game marked by seven hit batsmen. Oakland blanked Milwaukee 2-0 behind Vida Blue's two-hitter. California topped the White Sox 3-1 in 10 innings. The Baltimore-Cleveland game was rained out.

Middies Blast
Marlboro 15 to 7

Pitching went by the boards here Tuesday as Middletown High School whipped Marlboro, 15-7, in a non-league baseball game.

A total of 20 hits were combined by the two teams to sufficiently rock the pair of hurlers each team sent to the mound.

Middletown took a 2-0 lead after two which Marlboro switched to its advantage, 5-3, in the middle of the fourth. But the Middies tallied three times in the fourth, six times in the fifth, and thrice more in the sixth to pull away.

Miscues Hurt Maroon Nine

KINGSTON — Technically, the team with the most runs wins. Usually, the team with the most mistakes loses. Kingston High School made the most mistakes for the second straight day and thus lost for second straight time Tuesday. The score was 5-4 with Roosevelt coming out on top in the non-league baseball tilt at Ditz Stadium.

"As I said before the season," KHS Coach Ron Cole pointed out, "we'd be alright as long as we cut down on our errors." Instead, the Maroons have mishandled the ball eight times in the two contests.

Coach Cole was also hoping to get by this week using only one pitcher in each of the four games on the schedule, since he has just the four regulars on hand.

However, Don Lackaye and George Geanuleas worked against Poughkeepsie to blow his rotation right off the bat. This put Mike Palladino on the hill versus Roosevelt and when he got into trouble Cole had to call on Ralph Perry to finish up. Perry is not one of the KHS pitching regulars. The fourth, Vin Rua, goes today at but the sixth proved to be his downfall.

An error started off the frame and must have unnerved the Maroon hurler as he walked the next three men to force in a run. Then Palladino really got wild — so wild that he threw two pitches away to send in another pair of scores.

That was enough for Coach Cole to bear so in came Perry. His luck wasn't any better as the first man he faced reached on an error which was followed by a fielder's choice to give Roosevelt its go-ahead run.

"Obviously, we should have safeties apiece for KHS.

won the game," Coach Cole remarked. "Our hitting has been adequate and after this four day stretch our pitching should straighten out. We just have to stop making mistakes."

EXTRA BASES — Kingston, which lost to Poughkeepsie on opening day and faces them again today, received some bad news when it was learned that Newburgh ripped the Pioneers, 12-4, Tuesday.

Kingston JV's beat Roosevelt, 3-2, with Bill Samuels going all the way allowing four hits. Bob Marz and Tom Turco had two

The Long Road Back For Marshall Eleven

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI) — The success of Marshall University's 1971 football team was assured Tuesday, five months before it played a game.

Spring practice began. "This represents a great commitment by the university and the community," said Jack Lengyel, the head coach. "It would have been very easy for them to give it up."

Although spring football practice at most colleges is a rather routine exercise, it is an event of considerable note at Marshall, where nearly an entire team was wiped out in an airplane crash five months ago today.

"I realize that it's going to be a great difficulty and there are certainly going to be some long and lean Saturdays," Lengyel said. "But I think this provides one of the great lessons in athletics—to rebuild and come back from a tragedy like this."

Forty-three players participated in the first two-hour workout on the AstroTurf at Fairfield Stadium, most of them freshmen.

But there were some varsity-experienced players who missed the ill-fated trip to East Carolina last Nov. 14.

"I'm just trying to put all the things that happened in the past behind me," said Ed Carter, a junior offensive tackle from Wichita Falls, Texas.

Carter was attending his father's funeral when the chartered Southern Airways jetliner crashed trying to land at Huntington, killing 75 persons including 36 of Carter's teammates, Coach Rick Tolley, and a large delegation of fans.

"It's kind of like being a freshman all over again," Carter said. "We're all starting fresh, and everyone's trying to show the coach what they can do."

Nathaniel Ruffin, one of the 1970 co-captains, missed the death trip because of an arm injury and says he now feels "funny" practicing without his old friends.

"I'm the only guy here who started with the others as a freshman in 1968," Ruffin said. "There are only about six upperclassmen here now and we know it's going to be on our shoulders to take the leadership responsibility."

Most of the players agreed that merely by being able to continue its football program, Marshall is an assured success this year.

"If we're able to win some games, he should be coach-of-the-year," said Joe McMullen, the new athletic director.

Motta Top NBA Coach

CHICAGO (AP) — "That's fine," said Dick Motta of the Chicago Bulls when informed he had been selected Coach of the Year in the National Basketball Association.

"But you can't eat it," Motta added, "and I'd rather be in the playoffs than win this thing."

The Bulls were eliminated in the first round of the playoffs by the Los Angeles Lakers in seven games but Motta received the award for lifting the Bulls to a 51-31 record when the team did not figure to make the playoffs.

The Bulls record was third best in the entire league behind Milwaukee and New York.

Motta received 30 votes from a panel of three sportswriters in each of the 17 league cities. Larry Costello of Milwaukee finished a distant second with 11. The results were announced Tuesday.

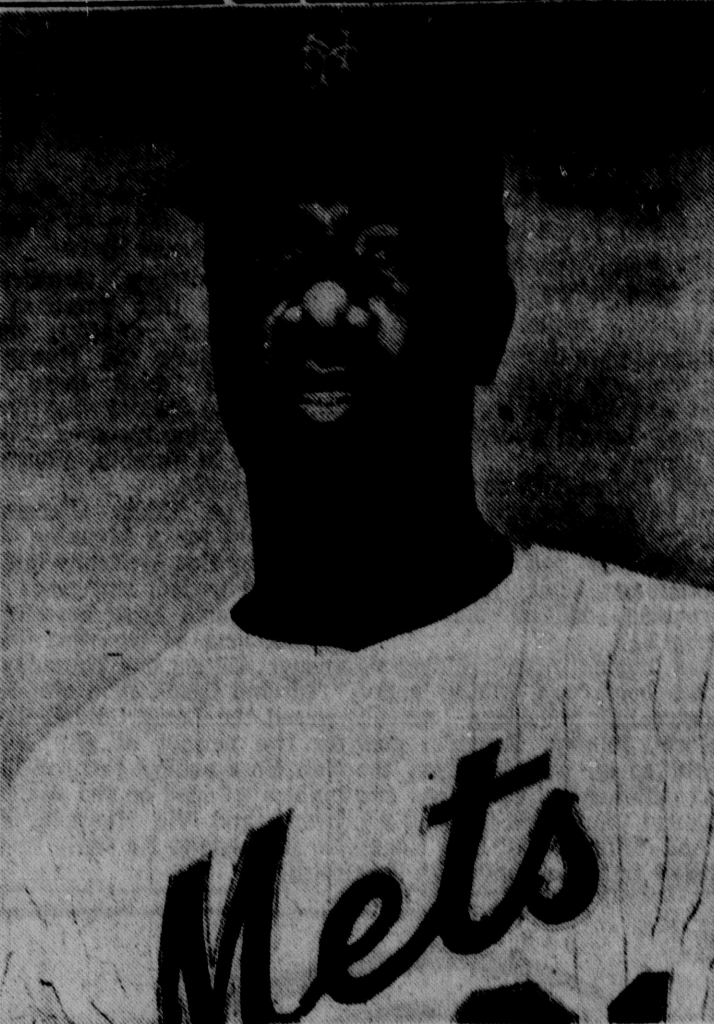

Al Attles of San Francisco landed three votes and New York's Red Holtzman, last year's winner, collected two.

Receiving one vote each were Bob Cousy of Cincinnati, Jack Ramsey of Philadelphia, Lenny Wilkens of Seattle, Joe Mullane of Los Angeles and Rolland Todd of Portland.

Motta, 39, came to the Bulls three years ago after a successful coaching tenure at Weber State in Utah where his teams won 237 games, lost 34 and captured six Big Sky Conference titles in 12 years.

His first Chicago team had a 33-49 record and his second team was 39-43 and made the playoffs in 1970 before hitting the jackpot this season.

"I have no desire to leave the pro ranks," said Motta. "I miss some things about the college atmosphere but there are a lot of games in pro ball and I have a one track mind anyway—it's on basketball."

Army Nine Will Host Mets In Exhibition on Thursday

WEST POINT — The New York Mets, 1969 World Champions of Baseball, visit the U.S. Military Academy at West Point Thursday for an exhibition game with Army. Game time is 3 p.m. for the seven-inning contest at Doubleday Field. The game is open to the public at no admission charge.

The visits by the Mets, who defeated the Baltimore Orioles in the 1969 World Series, will be their fourth since the series began in 1963 and the first since 1967. The Cadets have yet to score a run off the National League, dropping respective 3-0, 8-0 and 4-0 decisions.

The Mets got off to a fast start this season, winning three of their first four games. This past weekend they swept a two-game set with the Cincinnati Reds, last year's National League champions. Prior to the visit to West Point, they will be at Montreal for a two-game series and will return to Shea Stadium Friday to open a stand with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Manager Gil Hodges of the Mets has indicated that first string players like Cleon Jones, Donn Clendenen, Jerry Grote, Bud Harrelson, Tommie Agee and Ed Kranepool, will see action for part of the game.

FRED FAERBER

Local Traps Ace

Faerber Bids For Pan-Am

KINGSTON — A Kingston representative in the trapshooting competition at the Pan Am Games in Colombia, South America, next fall?

It's a distinct possibility, if Fred Faerber, 32-year-old proprietor of Smith Avenue Storage Warehouse Moving Corp. of 149 Clinton Avenue, continues his present pace in the U.S. International Trapshoot eliminations.

A well known figure in area trapshooting circles, Faerber placed second with a 174/200 score in the two-day weekend trials at Suffolk, N. J. He broke 83 birds the first day and improved his marksmanship to 91 in the second round.

Winner of the New Jersey elimination was Art Goodwin of East Orange with a 186/200 score. Sixty-five gunners com-peted.

Faerber and Goodwin both qualified for the next stop on the four-tournament elimination circuit at Quantico, Virginia. If Faerber survives there, the last stop will be Phoenix, Arizona for the U.S. finals. The 12 final-ists at Phoenix will make up two teams to represent the United States at the Pan-Am Games.

Faerber, who has had a mete-oric rise in only two and a half years of trapshooting, is not a stranger to shooting laurels. He captured the New England Open at Hartford, Conn. and in Feb-ruary was third in the New York Athletic Club championships at Travers Island, a premier event that attracts the best shotgun marksmen in the East.

"I'm shooting pretty good right now and I think I have a chance to go all the way," says the Smith Avenue proprietor. "I'm doing plenty of practice shooting to stay sharp."

Faerber's rapid rise as a shooter was reflected in his sen-sational showing at the Grand

NFA Aces Are Named All-State

SYRACUSE — Three Newburgh Free Acad-emy cagers were named to the New York State Sports Writers Association All-Star team as the NYSSWA picked a total of 50 ballplayers on 10, five-man squads. Newburgh finished the season ranked behind Mount Vernon as the Number Two team in the State.

NFA guard Wade Pittman was selected on the first team while Larry Frazier and Jim Rogers made the third squad.

Another area hoopster, high-scoring John O'Neil, Catskill, made the sixth quintet. O'Neil, a senior, averaged 36.7 points-per-game, highest in the State.

Other first team selections with Pittman were: Gus Wil-liams, Mt. Vernon, guard-24.3 sr.; Mel Montgomery, Buffalo Kensington, forward-29.5 sr.; Luther Burden, Albany Schuyler, forward-29.0 jr.; Mike Young, Mt. Vernon, center-20.0 sr.

Pittman, at 6-3½ and a senior, was one of the top scorers in the Mid-Hudson Valley with a 22.3 average per game. Frazier, a 6-3, senior, hit for 18 points-per-game while the 6-8 Rogers, also a senior, averaged 19 points and 17 rebounds.

All three NFA players are bound for Florida A and M on collegiate basketball scholar-ships.

Levy $16,550 Fines On Hockey Brawlers

MONTREAL (AP) — Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, warned today he will continue to crack down hard on what he termed "the deplorable spectacle" of brawling in NHL games.

He slapped fines aggregating $16,550 on the New York Rangers and the Toronto Maple Leafs Tuesday for their brawls during the third period of their Stanley Cup playoff game in New York last Thursday.

The players of both teams tangled with each other in fights that delayed the game won by the Leafs 4-1. During the melee Vic Hadfield of the Rangers threw the mask of Bernie Parent, the Toronto goalie, into the crowd. It was not recovered.

"As the measure of club responsibility in this instance," Campbell said, "the New York Rangers and the Toronto Maple Leafs are assessed fines of $5,000 each, payable to the players' emergency fund."

The $5,000 fine handed each club is the highest in league history. William Jennings, president of the Rangers, said he would appeal to the NHL Board of Governors.

"This is not the first such incident for either team in the current season," Campbell said in his statement. "And in view of the deplorable spectacle they produced, the automatic fines provided in the playing rules

Schmidt, Little Abner In Wrestling Feature

KINGSTON — Hans Schmidt, one of pro wrestling's most colorful "bad guys" teams with Erik the Red in the Australian tag-team exhibition tonight at the municipal auditorium. Schmidt and Erik go against the tandem of Chief White Owl of Cherokee, N. C., and Domenic Denucci, the newly-crowned Italian wrestling champion, in a best-of-three-falls headliner to a finish. The bout marks Schmidt's first appearance in Kingston in many years.

Popular Little Abner, the 320-pound hillbilly from Tennessee meets The Mysterian, 245 pounds, from Osaka, Japan in the best-of-three falls, 45 minute time limit event. Crusher Verdue, 260 pounds, of Milwaukee and Bill Johnson, 255 pounds, of Winnipeg, Canada, are paired in the one fall, 30-minute curtain raiser. First bout starts at 8:30 p. m.

Ganders, Bushmen Baseball Winners

PINE BUSH — Events here and in Ellenville Tuesday showed Onteora High School that the baseball season is going to be a bit longer than was the just completed basketball campaign in which the Indians won UCL's championship.

Pine Bush clubbed OCS starter Dan Brown for 14 hits as the Bushmen walloped the Ellenville squad, 12-9, in the Ulster County League diamond opener.

Meanwhile the defending champion Rondout Valley Ganders were sending out waves throughout the County as they knocked off Ellenville, 16-2, in a non-league contest.

Rusty Smith, Pine Bush left fielder, and Bernie Scott, Bushmen right fielder provided the home team with most of the fine works as it battled Onteora.

Hogan Returns To the Circuit

HOUSTON (AP) — One of golfing's greats, Ben Hogan, will play in the $125,000 Houston Champions Tournament May 13-16, tournament backers said Tuesday.

It will be Hogan's first start since he was forced to withdraw from the Westchester Classic in New York last summer because of knee troubles.

He will come to Houston a week in advance for the tournament and play virtually every day with old friends Jack Burke and Jimmy Demaret in an effort to sharpen his game.

Hogan did the same thing last year and finished ninth in the tourney, winning $2,600. At the end of 63 holes he was contending for the lead.

Smith clouted a double and triple to drive in four runs and a three bagger by Scott brought home two more.

Catcher Jim Caputo added a two-run homer for Pine Bush. Before pitcher Brown was routed, however, the Onteora team gave him and eight run bulge.

A bases-loaded triple by Indian backstopper Wayne Fredericks capped the top of the third for Onteora as it put across the first eight tallies of the game. Five hits, four walks, and a hit batsmen were what did in Pine Bush pitcher Chuck Walters.

When Paul Lucyshyn took the hill for the home team in the fourth he was able to hold Onteora at bay while his mates were rallying to win. Lucyshyn got the win.

Brown went the distance for Onteora despite having allowed the 14 hits. The junior hurler fanned nine.

Rangers Wilt Leafs, 3-1

By BRUCE LOWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Rangers took less than a minute to assert themselves while Boston and Minnesota waiting for the waning moments to show everyone who was boss in the National Hockey League's crucial playoff games.

Ted Irvine rammed a goal past harried Toronto netminder Bernie Parent after just 34 seconds of play and the Rangers, continuing their remarkable turnaround, blitzed the Maple Leafs 3-1.

But Boston, after building up a 5-1 lead, was willing under Montreal's relentless assault before Johnny Bucyk's goal about seven minutes from the end deflated the Canadiens and enabled the Bruins to romp 7-3.

And Minnesota's Lou Nanne drilled in a rebound with less than four minutes to play to lift the North Stars to a 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Blues.

Tuesday night's victories — each in the fifth game of a best-of-seven quarter final series — gave the Rangers, Bruins and North Stars 3-2 leads in the Stanley Cup playoffs. The action resumes Thursday night in Toronto, Montreal and Minnesota.

Goalie Eddie Giacomin, whose bid for a blanking was spoiled by Don McKenny late in the third period, shrugged: "A shutout would have been nice, but as long as we win, that's enough. I'll get one Thursday."

Toronto Coach John McLellan agreed the Leafs "didn't skate for two periods at all," when New York outshot them 25-10 to build a 2-0 lead on the goals by Irvine and Vic Hadfield. Bob Nevin made it 3-0 early in the third.

Boston's Wayne Cashman and Yvan Cournoyer of Montreal traded early goals before the defending champion Bruins raced to a four-goal lead on tallies by Phil Esposito, Mike Walton, Johnny McKenzie and Eddie Westfall.

Then the Canadiens opened up and, as Frank Mahovlich and John Ferguson cut the margin in half, it appeared they might duplicate their second-game feat when they rallied from a 5-1 deficit to win 7-5.

But Bucyk, coming off the bench, picked up a loose puck, served in from the right and, as he crashed into two Montreal defensemen, fired the puck into the net to knock the steam out of the Canadiens' drive. Ken Hodge wrapped up the Boston scoring.

Coach Al McNeill said his Canadiens faltered too late. "We should have started in the first period. We didn't work hard enough. It was a bad game — but we've had bad games before and come out of it."

Jude Drouin of Minnesota and Craig Cameron of St. Louis scored two goals apiece — with one by each of them coming just seven seconds apart to set a playoff record. And Murray Oliver of the North Stars and Wayne Connolly of the Blues also had tallies that sent the game into the third period tied 3-3.

Tom Reid started the winning play stealing the puck and passing to Oliver, who unloaded a slap shot. "Glenn Hall made a good stop," Nanne said, "but he just didn't have the angle to get me." The Minnesota right wing rammed the decided past the sprawling St. Louis goalie with 3:35 to play.

Montreal Forward Injured

BOSTON (AP) — Montreal forward Phil Roberto was held overnight at Massachusetts General Hospital after suffering an apparent pelvic injury just after the start of the Canadiens' National Hockey League playoff game against the Boston Bruins Tuesday night. Roberto was carried off the ice after he crashed into the boards while chasing Boston's Derek Sanderson in an attempt to get the puck just 24 seconds after the opening faceoff. "He tried to turn with me and his foot got caught in a rut in the ice," Sanderson said. "He lost his balance and went into the boards real hard."

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

DIARY DEFENSE: (Q.) My best friend gave me a diary last Christmas, and since then I have been putting my most personal thoughts in it. There is nothing in it of which I am ashamed, but there are things I don't want anyone else to see.

When I got it, my mother told me what a privilege and an opportunity it is to have a diary where a girl can put down everything.

But I am sure she has been snitching on me. I hide it in different places and she's always hunting for it. I can tell because when I come in things aren't the same as when I left. What can I do to get her to stop?—No Privacy in Connecticut.

(A.) Ask your mother for privacy, then trust her to give it to you.

A girl's diary and her personal mail should be hers alone, safe from intrusion by everyone, including parents.

FLOORED: (Q.) I have an embarrassing physical hang-up. I have very weak knees and when my friends bump me, either in play or accidentally, I fall down. I don't want to go to a doctor. Could you tell me how to keep from falling?—Fall Guy in Pennsylvania.

(A.) Sometimes, whether we want to or not, we need to see a doctor. I think you do. It may be something very simple, but your doctor is the one to talk to.

Arctic Journey Didn't Nag

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Geographic series, in its windup program of the season Tuesday night, was dedicated to conservation activities in the Arctic.

The CBS hour concentrated on Al Oeming, a naturalist with a 1,500-acre game preserve in Alberta, where he breeds rare and threatened species including caribou, musk ox and the arctic hare. Much of the film was shot on an arctic expedition last summer when he was collecting animals to improve his breeding stock or to try to start new families.

They used helicopters and airplanes in the hunt. Musk ox were herded by low flying planes into water so the young could be separated from the herd. An attempt to catch a male and female caribou in a net ended in failure when two young females were caught. The program showed a white whale chase and the capture of a narwhal—a whale with a single horn growing from his head—which ended with the animal's accidental death. There was a merry sequence with nets running around wildly trying to capture scurrying arctic hares.

The film work was excellent. Best of all there was no lecturing on conservation. With all the editorializing in the past couple of seasons by nature programs, the public must be aware of endangered species.

"Journey to the High Arctic" didn't nag, since conservation was implicit throughout, and was the better for it.

"Sixty Minutes" cohosts Mike Wallace and Morley Safer went globe-trotting to put together Tuesday night's program. Safer visited My Lai with a camera crew and had some sober, philosophical reflections on the massacre. He stopped off in Spain for a sea-side interview with actor George C. Scott on his announced plans to refuse to accept an Oscar if he wins one for his role in "Patton."

Wallace went to Israel and returned with an illuminating and crisp series of interviews with its leaders on the possibilities of a negotiated peace with Egypt. He followed with a thought-provoking feature on post-NBC's first woman industry's efforts to rehabilitate alcoholic employees instead of firing them.

It was, as usual, a good mix of material and well put together.

Meanwhile, NBC has decided on a permanent host for its "First Tuesday," a spot open since Sander Vanocur was pulled out early in the season. It will be Garrick Utley, chief of its Paris bureau for the past two years.

Aline Saarinen, the network's art and women expert, has been named to the foreign thought-provoking feature on post-NBC's first woman industry's efforts to rehabilitate alcoholic employees instead of firing them.

South won the opening heart lead and went right after trumps. East cashed his ace and led a second heart. South won with his king. Later on South had to lose both the club and diamond finesse plus a heart to go down one trick.

South criticized North for his Stayman three-club bid. He pointed out that with a 4-3-3-3 distribution, North should have just raised to three no-trump.

North agreed that this might have been a better bid but pointed out that South should have made four spades. The winning line of play would be to forget all about finesse and play the ace and jack of diamonds after winning the heart lead. This would set up dummy's queen of diamonds for a heart discard before the defense had time to set up a trick in that suit.

We feel both South and North are correct but that no real crime was committed. We would

Salesman, Cleric, Mechanic— Offer Selves for POWs

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—An insurance salesman, a minister, an auto mechanic, a young conscientious objector and a retired fireman leave for Laos today to offer themselves in exchange for American war prisoners in North Vietnam.

"We're going over there with one thing in mind—the sake of humanity," said Dominic "Bud" Cimino, 45, a Marine in World War II and the father of three children.

"I'm confident we're going to be successful because they can't say no to us. You see, what we're asking for is just a human thing to do," said Cimino, an insurance salesman who heads the group.

'POWs' Families Suffer Most
"I don't know how we can possibly sit back here and enjoy ourselves while there's men rotting in POW camps, some of them for eight years," he said. "I'm not doing anything spectacular, the courageous people are the mothers, wives and children of the POWs in North Vietnam."

The other members of the group are the Rev. Gene Trouche, 59, a French-speaking Methodist minister; Stan Bagwell, 50, a retired Navy petty officer and an auto mechanic; Patrick MacDonald, 21, a conscientious objector; and Ed Newmyer, 70, a retired fireman.

Humanitarian Appeal
After their arrival in Laos, Cimino said the group plans to go to the North Vietnamese embassy and "present our idea to them. We're going to go with dignity and peacefully." "We just want to present ourselves as plain, ordinary citizens," he added, "and talk them into making the exchange for humanitarian reasons."

Cimino plans to return to the United States if the deal goes through and make arrangements for 50 more volunteers he says have applied for the substitution project.

The Israeli Proposals Short of Expectations

By United Press International
Israeli proposals for reopening the Suez Canal fall short of what both the United States and Egypt had expected, diplomatic sources in Jerusalem said today.

They said the Israeli plan, which is expected to receive formal cabinet approval at the regular weekly meeting Sunday, envisages only a limited Israeli withdrawal from the east bank of the canal, safeguards to prevent either Soviet or Egyptian troops crossing from the west bank to replace them, a permanent cease-fire and guarantees Israeli ships will be able to transit the canal.

The proposals were to be passed on to Washington after receiving almost certain cabinet approval.

Egyptian President Anwar Sadat had called for the Israelis to pull back from the east bank and be replaced by Egyptian troops as a first step to total withdrawal from the Sinai. Ten days ago Sadat reaffirmed this was Egypt's final bargaining position.

In Cairo, a ranking member of Egypt's political leadership said the Middle East was "approaching the moment of an inevitable military confrontation" and that peace efforts have reached a dead end. Dia Eddin Dawoud, a member of the Arab Socialist Union's supreme executive committee, said "Israel is fooling the world with false press reports about a partial withdrawal (from Sinai) but the core of all these plans is that Israel is determined to maintain its occupation of Arab land."

Heavy Fighting Flares Near Pakistan Capital

NEW DELHI (UPI)—East Pakistani rebel forces today were reported engaged in heavy fighting with government troops just outside the East Pakistan capital of Dacca. The premier of the self-proclaimed rebel government called on his people to fight "until the enemy is routed from the sacred soil of our country."

Indian press reports said the East Pakistani forces "are locked in battle 12 miles from Dacca." At the same time, Pakistani federal forces were advancing in Kushtia district where the rebel capital of Chadanga is.

Both sides claimed victories. The rebels said they had recaptured the northeastern town of Sylhet which federal troops controlled last weekend. Radio Pakistan said government troops had cleared the town of Dinajpur of "all miscreants, antistate elements and armed infiltrators from across the (Indian) border. Dinajpur is in the northwest corner of East Pakistan, 170 miles northeast of Dacca."

The Times of India, in a report from Shillong in India's Assam state, said Pakistani federal forces were using landing craft supplied by Turkey against the rebels. The report also said "Russian amphibious T58 and T59 tanks also have been sent to Pakistan." Prime Minister Tajuddin Ahmed, newly named head of a rebel committee to seek aid from other countries in the struggle with the Karachi government, left for India. "As long as the sun shines in the sky and the moon and the stars decorate the heavens, Bangla Desh (Bengali Homeland) will remain free," Tajuddin said in his first broadcast. He called for East Pakistanis to fight "until the enemy is routed from the sacred soil of our country."

Bangla Desh radio said today the revolutionary government was working on a charter setting out its objectives. It also announced a series of directives including instructions to youths to report for military training, for everyone to take orders from the Awami League Political Party leaders and all citizens to "punish those who have betrayed the revolution."

The rebellion followed weeks of negotiations in which Awami League leader Sheikh Mujibur Rahman demanded a measure of autonomy for East Pakistan, separated by 1,000 miles of Indian territory from West Pakistan. East Pakistan long has contended the central government in the less populous but larger west wing of the country has exploited East Pakistan.

Vols for Vietnam Appears Blocked

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration appears to have backed off the idea of sending only volunteers to Vietnam.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said Tuesday the possibility is still under study, but spoke of enlistment problems and reservation about asking soldiers to volunteer for war duty.

Within a few months, the number of U.S. troops in Vietnam will have reached a level at which Laird had said previously it might be possible to assign only volunteers, as was done before the big American buildup began in 1965.

"The study we have," Laird said in January 1970, "would indicate that you would have to have a force of between 200,000 and 240,000 before you could entertain a new program that would limit your forces in Vietnam to volunteers."

President Nixon announced last week he would withdraw another 100,000 troops by Dec. 1, bringing the U.S. force down to 184,000 men.

But when asked at a Tuesday news conference when it would be possible to send only volunteers to Vietnam, Laird replied this could seriously affect the administration's efforts to raise an army without the draft, a mid-1973 goal.

"There are certain problems if we split the all-volunteer force up and apply it just to South Vietnam and not as a worldwide sort of proposition," he explained.

After personally interviewing enlisted men and officers, Laird said, he found many volunteers are willing to serve in Vietnam. "But it's rather difficult to go home and explain to one's wife and family that they have decided they want to go to Vietnam and serve a year or two years."

"They can go home and explain this very easily if they are actually ordered to serve there," he said. Nevertheless, the defense chief said, it's a matter "we continue to study."

Pentagon sources said the idea of sending only volunteers to Vietnam was an attractive one a year ago, but now officials are leery of it.

ST. LAWRENCE SEAWAY
Now Open to Shipping
MASSENA, N.Y. (AP) — The 1971 navigation season on the St. Lawrence Seaway opened today, though officials said lingering ice problems may slow shipping for several days at certain points on the inland channel.

Upbound vessels were scheduled to begin passing through the St. Lambert Lock into the Montreal-Lake Ontario section after 10:30 a.m.

Shipping in both directions will be limited to daylight hours, said seaway officials, until lighted channel markers are installed in the lake, river, and canal system that links the Great Lakes with the Atlantic.

Vessels were expected to have clear sailing up to the Beauharnois Canal-Lake St. Francis area, where two Canadian icebreakers are opening a passage through remaining ice.

At the other end of the joint U.S.-Canadian waterway, a field of mixed pack ice and broken ice extends for five miles into Lake Ontario, seaway officials reported here Tuesday.

Only ships of adequate power and construction were advised to try passage, authorities said, although another Canadian icebreaker was in the area to assist ships.

Heavy ice conditions also persisted at the eastern end of Lake Erie from the Long Point peninsula in Ontario to Port Colborne. Seaway officials said there were seven ships proceeding through that area with difficulty Tuesday, aided by still another Canadian icebreaker.
